About the HOTLINE

The 3-1-1 Whistleblower Hotline is designed for reporting City employees or vendors the City engages with who you suspect are engaged in fraud, waste, or abuse of City assets. While face-to-face reporting is always the best form of communication, it is not always feasible. Recognizing that employees are not always comfortable going through the chain of command, the Fraud Hotline provides another vehicle to report fraud, waste, or abuse.

Reporting Fraud, Waste or Abuse

Call the 3-1-1 Whistleblower HOTLINE at (951) 826-5311 or complete and submit an online complaint form.

(NOTE: you will be redirected to the City's 311 webpage, and under SELECT THE TYPE OF PROBLEM YOU ARE REPORTING, you must select the Whistleblower Hotline option)

You can choose to remain anonymous. The Internal Audit Division will maintain the confidentiality of all complaints, including documents. Complaints submitted online are routed directly to the Internal Audit Division.

The Internal Audit Division will investigate all complaints received related to fraud, waste and abuse. Complaints pertaining to City employees in the areas of employee relations, discrimination, harassment, safety, workers' compensation fraud, and related personnel matters will be forwarded to the Human Resources Director for appropriate handling and investigation, which may include the Police Department and/or outside investigators, depending on the nature of the issue and whether criminal conduct is alleged.

Hotline Process

In order to process your complaint, a minimum amount of information is needed. Please ensure that you have the following information before contacting the Hotline:

- You are reporting fraud, waste, abuse that involves a City of Riverside employee(s), a contractor(s) or a vendor(s) doing business with the City of Riverside.
- You know the date and time when alleged incident occurred.
- You can describe the alleged incident (what occurred and where).
- You know who the alleged suspect involved is.

Whistleblower Protection

The City will not retaliate, nor will it tolerate retaliation against those who, in good faith, report suspected fraud, waste and abuse or who participate in an investigation of suspected violations. An act of retaliation should be reported immediately to the Internal Audit Division for referral to the Human Resources Director, who will investigate and, if appropriate, report as a potential City policy violation. In addition, those who bring matters to the Internal Audit Division are protected through the State of California Whistleblower Protection Statute, California Labor Code Sections 1102.5 and 1106.

Fraud Prevention, Reporting and Investigation Policy

The City has implemented a Fraud Prevention, Reporting and Investigation policy to provide communication and guidance to employees when misuse or misappropriation of City assets. The policy (Number 01.011.00) can be found on the Internal Audit Division website under Administrative Manual.

ASSOCIATION OF INSPECTORS GENERAL

Certification Policy and Process

The Association has offered training and certification to the Inspector General community since 1999. The Inspector General Institute® certification program, is dedicated to providing review of and training in best practices, in core competency areas that the Association has identified as being essential to the performance of the work of offices of inspectors general. Those who meet education and experience eligibility requirements; successfully complete the Institute certification program; and pass the exit examination will earn the designation of: Certified Inspector General®, Certified Inspector General Auditor®, or Certified Inspector General Investigator®. For those who qualify, it is possible to earn more than one certification from the Association.

Instructional Method and Faculty

This Institute program utilizes the group-live instructional method. All materials that you will need to participate in classroom discussion will be provided, and there is no required pre-course preparation. However, it is recommended that attendees review the “Green Book” – Principles and Standards for Offices of Inspectors General, which is available on our website or by clicking here.

Instructors include current or former inspectors general, senior IG staff along with experts in investigative, forensic and related disciplines. The five-day Institute will include lectures, case analysis and didactic training to teach and enhance the skills expected of the professional Inspector General.

Expect to interact with instructors and fellow attendees during and after class and throughout the one-week program. The opportunity to meet informally and share “war stories” with fellow inspectors general will be a valuable part of this training.

Participants may also be expected to read case material and present their own redacted case facts for discussion.

Attendance at All Sessions is Mandatory

If a registrant fails to attend all sessions, Certified Inspector General® or certification will be withheld and no attendance certificate will be awarded. Attendance will be determined by the signature on the periodically circulated attendance roster. No exceptions to this policy will be permitted.

Exit Examination

Participants attending all sessions of the Institute will qualify to take the exit examination. A passing grade is required for certification. The examination begins in the afternoon of the last day of class, and are usually completed by 2 PM.

Role of the Professional Certification Board

The Professional Certification Board of the Association of Inspectors General (consisting of members of the Board of Directors) is the final decision maker regarding interpretations of all rules and regulations pertaining to the Institute, pursuant to the Association's policies and procedures as set forth in the AIG constitution, bylaws and policy manual. Questions for the Professional Certification Board pertaining to Institute policy and procedure should be directed to the Executive Director of the Association Ron Calvosa at rcalvosa@inspectorsgeneral.org

Participants should plan to arrive at 7:30 A.M. on Monday to register. Seminars are scheduled each day from 8:00 A.M. until 5:00 P.M. The exit examination is usually completed by 2:00 P.M. on Friday.

Policies

Cancellation

In the unlikely event of cancellation by the Association, the Association will endeavor to reschedule the Institute. In the event that a paid registered participant is unable to attend the rescheduled Institute, or the Institute is not rescheduled, the Association will refund the payment.

Refunds

All registration fees (less a cancellation fee of $100) received by the Association are nonrefundable except in the case of cancellation as describe above. However, the Association may allow paid registrants who are unable to attend an Institute to apply the payment to future Institutes or Association conferences.

What we do

The Office of the Inspector General (OIG) works to keep City government free from fraud, corruption, and misconduct.

We conduct investigations of all government entities under the Mayor's jurisdiction. Our Contract Compliance Unit investigates individuals or businesses that work with the City or receive City funding. It's our job to ensure that City employees, contractors, and grant recipients follow all requirements and operate with integrity.

The OIG has the power to:

- Issue subpoenas.

- Examine all City documents, contracts, and monetary expenditures.
- Demand testimony from City employees.
- Recommend administrative discipline, policy improvements, and contract or grant action.
- Collaborate with law enforcement on issues of criminal activity and serious cases of fraud and corruption.

Our work relies on those who report wrongdoing in City government. Those who report wrongdoing in good faith will be protected.

Leadership

Amy L. Kurland
Inspector General
(215) 686-1770
oig@phila.gov

Amy L. Kurland is the inspector general for the City of Philadelphia, having been appointed to that position by Mayor Michael Nutter in 2008. Kurland received her law degree from Rutgers University and her bachelor's from Reed College.

Prior to becoming the inspector general, Kurland was an assistant United States attorney and senior litigation counsel in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, Criminal Division for 24 years. She specialized in public corruption and white collar fraud. She also served as the professional responsibility officer for the U.S. Attorney's Office and provided advice regarding compliance with the Pennsylvania rules of professional conduct.

Kurland has also taught trial advocacy as an adjunct professor of law at Rutgers University and Temple University, as well as at the U.S. Attorney General's Advocacy Institute, the National Advocacy Center and the F.B.I. Training Facility in Quantico. She is also a faculty member at the National Association of Inspectors General.

Kurland developed a training program for newly appointed judges and prosecutors in Bosnia and Herzegovina, in conjunction with the U.S. Department of State and the U.S. Department of Justice. She traveled to Sarajevo over several years to implement that program. Recently, she taught a class about the role of inspectors general with the U.S Department of Defense in the Democratic Republic of Congo.

Kurland serves on the board of directors of Women Against Abuse, Women Against Abuse Legal Center, the University Barge Club, and the Head of the Schindler Baratta. She is a graduate of Leadership
