Plan History

City Strategic Plan – Riverside 2.0 and 2.1

The Museum’s Strategic Plan necessarily relates to larger strategic goals adopted by the City of Riverside in 2015. As relevant to Museum operations, staff will strive to advance the City of Riverside’s Strategic Priorities, as codified in Riverside 2.1 (adopted 20 June 2017), which include:

- ✓ Enhanced customer service / improved quality of life
- ✓ Economic development / continue to develop an economically vibrant city
- ✓ Community services / provide appealing, accessible, and safe venues
- ✓ City transportation program / continue to develop efficient transportation systems and provide affordable options for community mobility
- ✓ Improve housing diversity and options
- ✓ Improve teamwork and communications
- ✓ Reduce taxpayer liability and reduce costs wherever possible.

When Riverside 2.0 and 2.1 were adopted, the Museum Department included Arts & Cultural Affairs. In mid-2017, Arts & Cultural Affairs returned to the Community and Economic Development Department. Riverside 2.0 and 2.1 continue to contain actions for the Museum Department that apply solely or primarily to the Arts & Cultural Affairs division; they are lined out below. Actions completed are in [square brackets]. All others are reshaped and subsumed into the new plan.

- ~~✓ Implement an updated Riverside Arts Plan including enhancing partnerships with City Departments, educational institutions, Native Nations, arts community, artists and businesses (local and regional), and elevating arts and culture for and in the community.~~
- ✓ Identify, develop, and implement feedback tools for customer service and program planning purposes.
- ✓ Provide public access to the Museum collection through ARGUS.NET.
- ✓ Relocate Museum Archives to consolidate with Library, City Clerk, and Public Utilities to enhance public access and provide additional exhibit potential.
- ✓ Develop museum membership program whereby individuals and organizations can support and engage with the Museum.
- ✓ [Enhance stewardship of historic sites through annual maintenance and project plans.]
- ~~✓ Enhance Festival of Lights~~
- ✓ [Complete Museum Department accreditation process.]
- ~~✓ Increase revenue generation from the Fox Performing Arts Center and Riverside Municipal Auditorium.~~

The City of Riverside's Riverside 2.0 and 2.1 were superseded in October 2020 by Envision Riverside 2025.

Recent Museum-Specific Assessments

In 2016 and 2017, the Museum Department's goals were reconsidered in light of the results of the American Alliance of Museums' Re-Accreditation Visiting Committee's report and a thorough operational assessment conducted by Museum Management Consultants, Inc., San Francisco. These reports contain dozens of recommendations affecting all functional areas that inform the new Strategic Plan. See key on page 3 for symbols indicating actions that address those recommendations.

Early Renewal of Museum's Five-Year Plan

The Museum of Riverside (MoR) embarks on its next five-year period at an institutional turning point. Altered MoR circumstances not anticipated at the time the 2016-2021 Plan was adopted require an early review and renewal of the five-year Strategic Plan. With city financial support available to address longstanding needs, including downtown site renovation and operational overhaul, the MoR will retool to embrace its mission in new ways and with different, updated priorities.

The MoR's 2016-2021 Strategic Plan was organized into four categories: Governance, Sustainability, Education, and Stewardship. While abandoning none of the core concerns inherent to these four categories, institutional change in the coming five-year period pivots on five key functions within which the MoR will continue to address governance, sustainability, education, and stewardship:

- ✓ Renovating
- ✓ Exhibiting and Engaging
- ✓ Embracing Community
- ✓ Strengthening Fundamentals
- ✓ Maximizing Resources and Stewarding Assets

The museum field as a whole is also guided by the American Alliance of Museums’ own strategic plan. The principles and goals that it foregrounds will also inform the Museum Department’s plan. These goals include Excellence, Advocacy, Global Thinking, Access, and Thought Leadership. The Museum Department places particular emphasis on Excellence, Access, and Thought Leadership in its 2019-2024 Strategic Plan.

Executive Summary

New Plan for 2019 through 2024

The MoR recommits to its mission, and cross-functional institutional goals will chart the course over the next five years. It is important to note that this Plan does not describe ongoing baseline activities and community collaborations that are fundamental activities in any year. Nor does it restate position descriptions or reiterate professional standards. Rather, the Strategic Plan for fiscal years 2019-2020 through 2023-2024 emphasizes goals that are over and above steady-state operations, and initiatives that are unique to the MoR’s process of reinventing itself to serve 21st-century audiences and enter into its second century of operation. The actions in the 2019-2024 Plan are 1) integral to larger goals, 2) important, 3) future-focused, and 4) aspirational. The Plan reaffirms the MoR’s aim to serve as a center for learning and as an indispensable community resource. Actions that will crosscut all internal functions include:

- ✓ Achieving earned and contributed revenue growth,
- ✓ Benchmarking to our museum peers in order to meet and exceed industry standards,
- ✓ Implementing initiatives to grow and diversify audiences, and
- ✓ Maximizing the opportunity presented by the MoR’s 100th anniversary in the year 2024.

Note that certain assumptions underlie this Plan. One, genuine program growth and achieving best practices across the board when they were previously lacking will require additional resources, staff in particular. Two, actions in this plan that comprise exploratory research may not necessarily result in the decision to implement a new exhibition, program, or project.

In the plan below, staff are indicated by name for positions that are filled at this time of this draft. Names will be revised as relevant during quarterly status reports. Advisory bodies indicated are those directly associated with the Museum. It is understood that other City departments and individuals will play advisory roles.

- * = Indicates a staff position not created and / or filled at the time of Plan approval. If the position is ultimately not filled, responsibility reverts to the individual to whom that absent staffer would have reported. Positions not filled will result in modification of plan goals, timetables, or both.
- φ = Supports Riverside 2.1 and / or its specific Museum Department objectives.
- ◇ = Supports a recommendation from the Museum Management Consultants’ assessment and/or the Re-Accreditation Visiting Committee’s report.
- green = Information in green in the Financial Impact column indicates an action for which revenues may exceed or partially offset costs.

Strategic Goal: RENOVATING

In the wake of a thoroughgoing recognition in 2016-2017 of the need for institutional change, funding was allocated from Measure Z funds to address a wide array of main museum site issues, and to use the closure that would be required to address facility and collections care challenges as an opportunity to engage in a dramatic reinvention. Long overdue updating of the brand and website will logically be pursued in conjunction with this process of reinvention.

Website overhaul is scheduled for spring 2022 by the City's Marketing Department but has been delayed due to short-staffing in Marketing. New schedule TBD.

Strategic Goal: EXHIBITING and ENGAGING

In addition to exhibitions, the Museum's educational programming encompasses development, implementation, and evaluation of all on-site and off-site Museum programs. These may include experiential learning opportunities such as drop-in programs, curriculum-based school tours, camps, special events, lectures, performances and other informal enrichment programs. These programs are ripe for reevaluation, expansion, and reinvention.

A broad cross-section of the community responds positively to reopening exhibitions.
Status: Im/migration, food, and Riverside stories exhibitions all in early planning. Guest curators identified for two of them, and preliminary scopes of work for exhibition design firms developed. Staff have paused active planning due to postponement of the renovation.

Exhibitions: Develop and maintain a calendar of upcoming exhibitions with a constant three-year planning horizon.	*Mgr. of Curatorial Services	Director's program advisory team	O = $100,000-$300,000 exhibition costs annually; sponsorship potential is high	A, B, C	Internal; resident and out-of-area tourist audiences	Exhibition schedules are confirmed in advance of budget planning cycles. Exhibitions confirmed sufficiently far in advance to include adjunct programs. After reopening, a new exhibition opens at least three times annually. Exhibition calendars are marketed in advance.
Status: Calendar does not yet go beyond reopening exhibitions, although discussions are taking place on high interest exhibition topics. Staff are now approaching 100th anniversary plans (2024) on the assumption that the new main museum building will not be available. A new exhibition planning calendar has been prepared that includes small Heritage House exhibitions and community exhibitions, as well as the larger, longer-term exhibition plans. Staff plan to mount two small exhibitions in Heritage House annually.
Exhibitions: By 2022, finalize a plan for all programming and citywide participatory partnerships in 100th anniversary (2024) celebration. To include events, exhibitions, programs, and marketing. All staff are clear about their roles, and all City departments playing a part have integrated the MoR's 100th into their own annual plans.
Status: Impacted by the uncertainty of reopening date; although staff are assuming the new building will not be available in 2024. A program and communications plan has been started, and negotiations are under way with a potential partner to host a collections-based exhibition to open in about July 2024. Staff continue to discuss ancillary programming and communications that the Museum will have the capacity to execute. Critical unfunded need in the amount of $50,000 in support of the 100th anniversary exhibition approved by the Board on March 23, 2022.

Possible pocket exhibition about orange crate labels is under review, location TBD. Pocket exhibition about women in the citrus industry installed at Arlington library branch. Additional "mini-museum" unit ordered, to be programmed with content about grizzly bears, location TBD.

Exhibitions: Develop an innovative digital approach to Heritage House virtual tour and room books.	Curator of Historic Structures	Docents, Heritage House Operations Committee	O = staff time; digital consultant TBD (likely capital expense); grant funding is possible	B, C	All audiences, including website visitors	Phased plan for full virtual tour of historic house is established; initial exploratory testing completed.
Status: Moved up in the schedule due to prolonged main site closure. Staff have obtained necessary equipment for virtual tours and trained on video editing and visual storytelling techniques. Initial digital programs rolled out in December 2020 (five videos on Victorian Christmas traditions). Quickly assembled digital tour released in time for virtual Dickens Festival in February 2021. Additional videos for the Insect Fair, documenting the BLM protest murals, and other topics are released or in production. These include virtual tours of both Heritage and Harada. The Heritage House tour is in the early planning stage, and the Harada House short tour is completed. Preparation of digital room books awaits hire of a new Curator of Historic Structures.

Status: Draft evaluation tool developed. Staff, for example, held a useful post-event assessment of Moon Festival 2021.
Education: φ Assess capacity for formal partnerships with school districts, private schools: • curriculum-based programs • after-school programs • transportation	Belding, Leland	School district contacts, Director's program advisory team	O = staff time; cost-sharing revenue will be pursued	B, C	Internal, education colleagues	Partnerships are formalized and include cost-sharing contributions. Partner feedback indicates that MoR partnerships are essential to educators meeting their own curriculum mandates.
Status: Delayed and substantively impacted by changes to school operations due to the pandemic. RUSD's MOU for use of Museum images has been renewed for five years. New curriculum-based kits for teachers are nearing completion (Harada, geology, others pending). Passage of a statewide ethnic studies requirement creates an opportunity for the Museum to build curriculum in this area to support local educators. Discussions with RUSD suggest that school tours may resume at a level approaching normal in 2022-2023.

Status: Some progress, but this action is impacted by the delay in the renovation project. In light of main museum delays, a new plan is in place to create a small-scale Nature Lab that will be used for outreach; working title "Nature Lab On-the-Go." Scheduling of initial presentations is pending development of sub-branding and preparing presentation materials.
Education: φ Broaden internship program with local colleges and universities; define scope of opportunities.	*Mgr. of Curatorial Services, Long	UCR, Cal Baptist, La Sierra, University of La Verne	O = staff time	A, B, C	University students in anthropology, biology, history	MoR is able to secure and support a minimum of two interns during any given academic year.

Templates for PowerPoints created and begun to be used. Staff are working to define programs that will use brand-heavy templates and those that will need independent graphics with a brand "signature."
Events: Analyze participation in collaborative events such as Insect Fair; assess larger or altered role, as appropriate. Gather information on other regional events and assess for involvement.	Belding, all senior staff	Arts & Cultural Affairs, community advisory teams	O = staff time; direct project costs based on collaborative projects pursued each FY (anticipating a maximum of two per FY); potential sponsorship revenue	B, C	Target audience varied according to event theme. Strategic Goal: STRENGTHENING FUNDAMENTALS

The MoR’s reaccreditation process in 2016-2018 drew attention to heightened professional expectations with regard to curatorial and education policies, community engagement, and business operations. A reexamination of all existing policies is warranted, as well as taking stock of the array of policies and statements that are expected of 21st-century museums to determine which may be relevant to develop for the MoR. While the City of Riverside is replete with policies, there remain practices specific to departments and professions that demand codification in order to aid in legal and professional compliance.

Strategic Goal: MAXIMIZING RESOURCES and STEWARDING ASSETS

The MoR's obvious assets include its collections and sites but also comprise its staff, the City of Riverside parent organization, other funders, its history, a longstanding reputation with the public and colleagues, diverse professional networks, and its intellectual capital.

SITES

As of 2019, the Museum of Riverside owns or occupies seven sites, four of which are historic (the Main Museum, Harada House, Heritage House, and Robinson House), but only one of which is open to the public. The goal is to ensure that MoR's sites, collections, and records are maintained at or above standards recognized as museum best practices, and that public accessibility to them is increased strategically.

Curator of Historic Structures drafted proposal outlining needs. No funding to hire staff, a situation that will continue in the FY22-24 biennium. This issue continues to be a growing problem as attrition among the docents and volunteers outpaces new recruits.

SUSTAINABLE OPERATIONS

Sustainability means more than ensuring that MoR's financial needs are aligned with its resources and the Museum's mission. Sustainability includes environmental and cultural concerns as well. To adopt a well-known and widely adopted definition of the concept, the MoR embraces an interpretation that "meets the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs."¹ The MoR has a long history of respect for cultural diversity, which will be further developed along with a more forthright embrace of environmentally sustainable operational choices. In the spirit of integrating sustainable choices with all operations, note that development of sustainability-related policy statements is noted in other sections.
