I. INTRODUCTION & BACKGROUND

The Southern California Public Power Authority (“SCPPA”) is a joint powers authority created in 1980 for the purpose of providing joint planning, financing, construction, and operation of transmission and generation projects.¹ SCPPA comprises 12 members – eleven municipal utilities and one irrigation district – including the City of Riverside (“Riverside”).²

On March 13, 2019, a member of Riverside’s City Council requested Riverside conduct an independent, outside audit of SCPPA.³ On September 22, 2020, Eide Bailly LLP (hereinafter referred to as “we”, “our,” or “us”) was engaged by Riverside to provide forensic accounting services related to Riverside’s participation in SCPPA. Our scope consisted of the following:

- Conducting interviews with City Council Members, the City Manager, the Public Utilities General Manager, and the Chief Financial Officer to discuss any concerns regarding SCPPA-related matters.
- Reviewing and analyzing SCPPA resolutions and associated documents that include participation with Riverside, from January 1, 2009, through December 31, 2018 (the “review period”).
- Reviewing and analyzing expenses paid by Riverside for contracts authorized under SCPPA for the review period.
- Analyzing previously presented SCPPA audits to verify the information provided and conclusions reached and determine if the reports were appropriate at the time they were provided to the City Council.
- Assisting Riverside with distributing a call for written public input and conducting interviews with the respondent who provided input.

As discussed later in this report, one respondent provided comments in response to Riverside’s call for written public input. At Riverside’s request, the scope of our engagement was expanded to include two follow-up interviews with this respondent to document and further understand the respondent’s assertions and concerns. We address in a later section those concerns and assertions that are within the scope of our analysis. At Riverside’s request, for those concerns and assertions that are outside the scope of our analysis, we provide at the end of this report a list summarizing those items along with an estimate of the hours and fees that would be required to investigate those items.

Our analyses and observations are based upon information provided to us as of the date of this report. We received from Riverside the information we requested to conduct a thorough analysis of Riverside’s participation in SCPPA, and to our knowledge, no information was withheld by Riverside from this process. It is possible that were additional information forthcoming, our analyses and observations would be materially different. We reserve the right to amend, modify, and supplement this report if deemed necessary by us due to the receipt of additional relevant and reliable information.

The services provided in this matter adhere to the applicable American Institute of Certified Public Accountants’ Statement on Standards for Forensic Services and the applicable Certified Fraud Examiner Code of Professional Standards established by the Association of Certified Fraud Examiners.

² SCPPA members comprise the City of Anaheim, City of Azusa, City of Banning, City of Burbank, City of Cerritos, City of Colton, City of Glendale, Imperial Irrigation District, City of Los Angeles, City of Pasadena, City of Riverside, and City of Vernon. See <http://scppa.org/page/Members>

³ RPU Board Memorandum. August 10, 2020.

We appreciate the cooperation of the Riverside staff and other individuals we coordinated with who were cooperative and responsive throughout the engagement and provided us with the requested documentation.

II. INFORMATION CONSIDERED

Our forensic accounting engagement considered primarily the following sources of information within the review period:

- SCPPA Board resolutions and other materials
- SCPPA joint power agreement, policies, and procedures
- SCPPA contracts for power generation, transmission, and energy efficiency
- Riverside fiscal policies, procedures, and annual budget reports
- Riverside City Council resolutions, agendas, minutes, reports, and other materials
- RPU Board agendas, minutes, reports, and other materials
- Riverside wire transfer requests for expenses incurred through SCPPA and task orders
- Prior Riverside audits
- Comments from the public provided in written format and through follow-up interviews in response to Riverside's call for public input
- RPU Small Business Direct Install Program General Ledgers
- Discussions with a total of 21 individuals at the City of Riverside inclusive of City Council members, the City Manager, the RPU General Manager, and the Chief Financial Officer

III. RIVERSIDE EXPENSES UNDER SCPPA

We conducted a forensic accounting review and analysis of SCPPA resolutions and Riverside expenses made under contracts authorized by these resolutions for the review period.

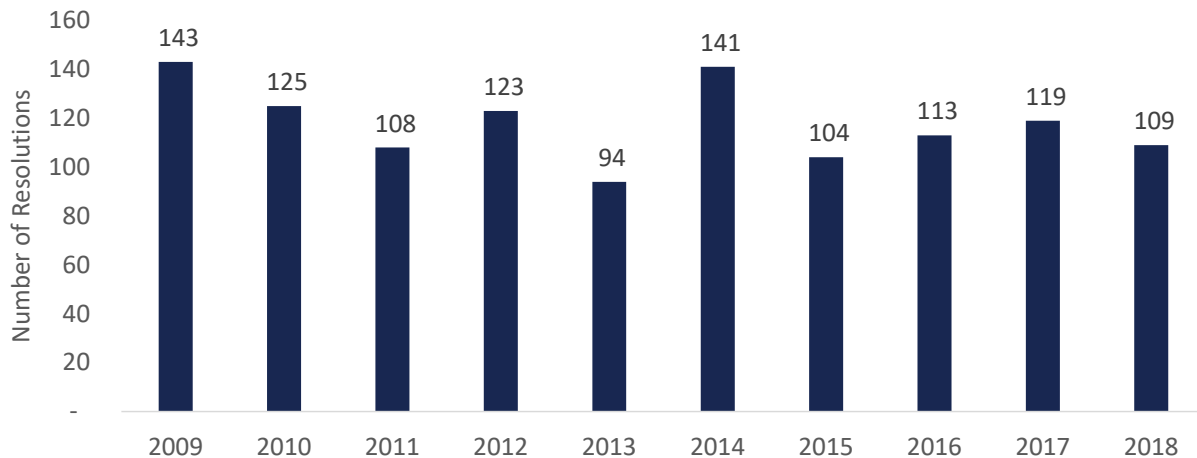

SCPPA RESOLUTIONS

The SCPPA Board of Directors consists of the Chief Executive Officer of each member's electric utility or a designated alternate. The Board of Directors, which typically meets once a month, authorizes agreements and other actions through various resolutions. We analyzed these resolutions and associated documents that included participation with Riverside during the review period.

SCPPA publishes approved resolutions on its website. We downloaded the 1,179 resolutions adopted during the review period. Figure 1 presents the number of resolutions by year. A detailed listing of the 1,179 resolutions is also located in Workpaper 1.⁴ The resolutions cover a variety of activities, including those related to power and transmission contracts, goods and services, and contributions to SCPPA's general fund.

Riverside provided us with 798 copies of wire transfer requests through which expenses authorized by Riverside under SCPPA contracts were paid for the review period. These requests list the expense to be paid, invoice date, vendor name, and SCPPA resolution associated with the wire payment. Of the 798 wire transfer requests provided, we noted 2,733 expenses paid. For a detailed listing of the expenses paid see Workpaper 2. There were 200 SCPPA resolutions listed across these wire transfer requests, indicating that of the 1,179 SCPPA resolutions issued during the review period, 17% included participation with Riverside, as presented in Figure 2.

RIVERSIDE EXPENSES

For each of the 2,733 expenses listed in these wire transfer requests, we created a database of information including the SCPPA resolution number, invoice number, invoice date, invoice due date, description, and project, as reflected in Workpaper 2. These expenses totaled $234.7M over the review period as shown in Figure 3.

Expenses increased by 50% over the review period and particularly since 2013. We conducted an analysis of these expenses by generating six main expense categories based on a review of City Council and RPU meeting minutes, presentations, and other materials. We reviewed the SCPPA resolutions and assigned each resolution to the expense category that best described the activity authorized by that resolution. The majority of the $234.7M in expenses were for power and transmission expenses. Energy efficiency and professional services expenses constituted the next two largest groups of expenses, respectively. Figure 4 summarizes these main expense categories by type and amount.

The following sections discuss the major contracts and vendors under each expense category.

Power Generation and Transmission Expenses

Riverside purchased power generation and transmission from SCPPA primarily through 10 contracts, as presented in Figure 5.

(dollars in millions, rounded)

These expenses increased by more than 50% over the review period, driven mostly by purchases of power from solar energy sources. Overall, the power generation and transmission expenses over the review period were approximately two-thirds for transmission and one-third for power generation. We discuss in more detail below the largest contracts, as measured by Riverside expenses.

Southern Transmission System

Riverside purchased transmission service from SCPPA under the Southern Transmission System transmission service contract dated May 1, 1983. The Southern Transmission System Project is a 488-mile transmission line, which imports power from the Intermountain Power Project and other resources.⁵ Several agencies shared the transmission service and costs provided under this contract, with Riverside's share at 10.2%.⁶ Over 50% of the Riverside's power generation and transmission costs were incurred under this contract.

Mead-Adelanto

Riverside purchased transmission service from SCPPA under the Mead-Adelanto transmission service contract dated August 4, 1992. The Mead-Adelanto Transmission Project is a 202-mile transmission line extending between Adelanto substation in southern California and Marketplace Substation near Boulder, Colorado.⁷ Several agencies share transmission service and costs provided under this contract, with Riverside's share at 13.5%.⁸

⁵ <http://scppa.org/page/Southern-Transmission-System>

⁶ For instance, the City of Riverside's share of the Southern Transmission System cost of $8,409,000 for November 2010, was $854,691, or 10.16%. Southern Transmission System Transmission Service Contract between Southern California Public Power Authority and City of Riverside, Appendix A. May 1, 1983.

Mead-Phoenix

Riverside purchased transmission service from SCPPA under the Mead-Phoenix transmission service contract dated August 4, 1992. The Mead-Phoenix Transmission Project is a 256-mile transmission line extending between a southern terminus at the Westwing substation in the vicinity of Phoenix, Arizona, and a northern terminus at Marketplace Substation, approximately 17 miles southwest of Boulder City, Nevada.⁹ Several agencies share transmission service and costs provided under this contract.¹⁰

Palo Verde

Riverside purchased nuclear power from SCPPA under the Palo Verde Nuclear Generation Station power sales contract, dated July 1, 1981. The Palo Verde Nuclear Generating Station is a nuclear-fueled generating station located near Phoenix, Arizona.¹¹ Riverside's share of power and costs provided under this contract is 5.4%.¹²

Solar Power

Riverside increased its purchase of solar power from SCPPA over the review period, particularly between 2016 and 2017. Riverside purchased solar power from SCCPA under the following five contracts, with the contract date and share of power and cost listed, respectively:

- Columbia Two: September 19, 2013. 74.4%.¹³
- Kingbird B Solar: September 19, 2013. 70.0%.¹⁴
- Antelope DSR 1: July 16, 2015. 50.0%.¹⁵
- Summer Solar: November 15, 2012. 50.0%.¹⁶
- Antelope Big Sky Ranch: November 15, 2012. 50.0%.¹⁷

Hoover Upgrading

Under the Hoover Upgrading Project power sales contract, dated March 1, 1986, Riverside purchased from SCPPA hydroelectric power generated by the Hoover Powerplant located approximately 25 miles from Las Vegas, Nevada. Fiscal year 2016-17 marked the last full year of this SCPPA project.¹⁸ Riverside's share of power and costs provided under this contract was 31.9%, and its expenses were relatively stable over the review period.¹⁹

Other

The remaining expenses were incurred under two contracts. The Loyalton Biomass Project is a renewable power generation facility located adjacent to the City of Loyalton in Sierra County, California. The project reached commercial operation on April 20, 2018.²⁰ Under the power sales agreement, dated November 16, 2017, several agencies purchase power, with Riverside's share at 6.7%.²¹ Riverside incurred $460K in expense under this contract during the review period.

Riverside also incurred expenses for one month, in August 2017, under the Los Angeles-Riverside Northern Transmission Agreement.²² The Northern Transmission System is one of three components of the Intermountain Power Project ("IPP") located in the Great Basin region of western Utah.²³ Riverside's share of costs in August 2017 was 18.3%.²⁴ Riverside incurred $94K in expense under this contract during the review period.

Energy Efficiency Expenses

Riverside's second-largest category of expenses through SCPPA during the review period was for energy efficiency purchases. Energy efficiency purchases encompass a variety of services, such as small business direct installation services, energy-efficient light bulbs, and energy efficiency related consulting services. These expenses increased particularly after 2015. Figure 6 presents the Riverside expenses incurred through SCPPA.

We discuss in more detail below those categories of expenses totaling more than $100,000 – which constitute 96% of expenses – during the review period.

Lime Energy

Lime Energy Services Company (“Lime Energy”) was the largest energy efficiency vendor, as measured by Riverside expenses, over the review period.²⁵ Lime Energy states on its website that it is “the nation’s premier installer of light-emitting diode (“LED”) lighting and offers a full menu of energy efficiency services that power small and medium-sized businesses to success.”²⁶ The majority of these expenses were incurred under the authority provided by two SPPA resolutions. Resolution 2011-64 states that certain SPPA member entities “have a need for energy usage assessment and direct energy efficiency implementation services...and...ECC is well qualified to provide such [s]ervices.” Resolution No. 2016-008 states Lime Energy was selected to “provide efficiency-related services and products.” A task order for Lime Energy states that the vendor will deliver “Small Business Direct Installation Program (direct installs), Comprehensive Energy Audits, Energy Efficiency Consulting Services, and other services.” A task order also lists in an appendix various products (e.g., LED exit signs, sensors, valves, lamps) and their respective prices per unit.²⁷

Richard Heath and Associates

The next largest vendor was Richard Heath and Associates (“RHA”). On its website, RHA lists SPPA as a commercial energy client and refers to small business and residential direct install programs and advanced energy audits.²⁸ Most of RHA expenses were incurred under the authority provided by Resolution No. 2012-005, which states that certain SPPA member entities “have a need for energy usage assessment and direct energy efficiency implementation services...and...RHA is well qualified to provide such [s]ervices.” RHA’s task order – similar to that for Lime Energy – states that the vendor will deliver “Small Business Direct Installation Program (direct installs), Comprehensive Energy Audits, Energy Efficiency Consulting Services, and other services.” The task orders also list in the appendices various products (e.g., HVAC tune-ups, exit sign, toggle switch, LED lights, lamps) and their respective prices per unit.²⁹

Efficiency Services Group

Efficiency Services Group (“ESG”) lists on its website direct install programs and solar among services it provides to customers.³⁰ Two resolutions provide the authority for the expenses incurred. Resolution No. 2011-097 states “certain Members have a need for development and delivery of rebate and/or installation programs including residential weatherization, heat pumps, HVAC, and other appliances; and commercial building shell measures and refrigeration systems; and energy usage assessment and direct energy efficiency implementation services.” Resolution No. 2015-023 states ESG “is well-qualified to develop and implement valuable efficiency improvement programs and provide related services.” An ESG task order states ESG will deliver “Keep Your Cool (KYC) Program (direct installs), Comprehensive Energy Audits, Energy Efficiency Consulting Services, and other services.” The task order states the KYC program’s goal is to help commercial business owners save energy through the targeted installation of best practice measures. Products to be delivered under the task order include those related to program development (e.g., marketing materials, program templates, program training), customer recruitment, customer site audit reports, project logistics, retrofit installations, quality assurance/quality control, and program metrics. The task order also lists in an appendix various products (e.g., controllers, door closers, programmable motors, LED lights) and their respective prices per unit.³¹

Greenlite

Greenlite Lighting Corporation (“Greenlite”) lists on its website upstream lighting as one of its services and states that it partners with public and private utilities in delivering upstream buydown energy efficiency programs.³² Most of the expenses incurred were under the authority provided by Resolution No. 2014-119. This resolution states that certain members “have a need to develop and implement an Upstream Rebate Program for the ‘buy-down’ of high efficiency LED lamps and related services.” Greenlite’s task order states that Greenlite will “utilize the implementation model which has been successful Nationwide in many LED Upstream Lighting Programs.” A task order also lists various products (e.g., LED light bulbs) and their respective prices per unit.³³

Energy Solutions

The majority of expenses for Energy Solutions were incurred under the authority provided by Resolution No. 2013-019.³⁴ This resolution states that certain members “have a need for ‘Upstream Rebate’ programs and services to increase the penetration of cost-effective, high efficiency equipment into specific customer sectors.” An Energy Solutions task order states the vendor will provide “program design, outreach, implementation, and incentive payment support for an Upstream Rebate Program for High Efficiency Equipment (Program). These efforts include creating materials necessary to maintain the Program, conducting outreach to eligible Distributors to upsell and stock qualifying equipment and enroll in the program, modifying and maintaining the online application system, processing rebate applications, ensuring Distributor compliance with the terms of the Distributor Participation Agreement...verifying customer eligibility and product qualifications, providing ongoing program usage information to Riverside Public Utilities, and paying rebates to Program participants.” The task order describes tasks related to project management, outreach, online system database development and maintenance, application processing and verification, payment processing and program reporting, and engineering services and work papers.³⁵

Synergy Companies

Most of the expenses incurred for Synergy were under the authority provided by Resolution No. 2014-082. This resolution states certain members “have a need for energy and water efficiency improvement programs and services...to increase the efficiency of the utility and its customers.” A Synergy Companies task order lists various products (e.g., fixtures, screws, tune-ups) and respective prices per unit under the Riverside Mobile Homes & Multifamily Residential Program.³⁶

RKS Research

The majority of expenses for RKS Research were incurred under the authority provided by Resolution No. 2012-006. This resolution states that certain members “have a need for customer research and surveys for the purpose of increasing energy efficiency and program participation and enhancing customer satisfaction relating to all customer interactions including Smart Grid and other technology and program applications [and]...RKS has previously provided Services, has existing and prior survey instrument benchmarks which are desired to be used within the ongoing analysis, and is well qualified to continue to provide such Services.” An RKS Research task order states the company will “design, conduct, analyze and report on results generated by a proprietary customer satisfaction oversample survey conducted among RPU key account customers.”³⁷

Muni-Fed Partner Energy

Expenses incurred for Muni-Fed Partner Energy (“Muni-Fed”) were primarily under the authority provided by two resolutions. Resolution No. 2013-084 states that certain members “have a need for auditing, planning and financing services related to energy efficiency improvements to reduce customers’ energy use.” Resolution No. 2017-070 states that certain members “have a need for energy auditing and engineering support services from an experienced provider with expertise to improve operating performance of customer facilities and build satisfaction with those customers.” A Muni-Fed task order states the vendor will provide energy assessments, energy audits, financial management, and other services.³⁸ The task descriptions include appliance procurement; appliance recycling; environmental compliance, tracking, and reporting; delivery and installation of new units and removal of existing units; and, program tracking and reporting services.

KJK&A

K.J. Kammerer & Associates (“KJK&A”) expenses were incurred under the authority provided by Resolution No. 2009-029, which states that members “have a need for vending machine energy usage assessment and direct energy efficiency implementation services.”

ARCA

Appliance Recycling Centers of America (“ARCA”) state on its website that it provides turnkey appliance management services for energy efficiency initiatives, is one of the nation’s largest recyclers of household appliances, and serves more than 250 sponsors of energy efficiency programs across the U.S. and Canada.³⁹ The expenses were incurred under the authority provided by three resolutions. Resolution No. 2006-007 states that members “have a need to remove old inefficient refrigerators from their systems and/or replace them with efficient refrigerators for low-income customers” and that SCPPA is willing to “retain ARCA to recycle inefficient refrigerators and provide replacement refrigerators to customers.” Resolution No. 2010-086 contains similar language and discusses additional volume and scope of services, including a revised expense limit and pricing. Resolution No. 2013-094 states members “have a need...to reduce customers’ energy use.” An ARCA task order states the company “will provide a comprehensive appliance recycling and replacement program for SCPPA’s Members.”⁴⁰

Oracle

Oracle America (“Oracle”) provides database, cloud, analytics, and other services across a wide range of industries.⁴¹ The expenses were incurred under the authority provided by Resolution No. 2017-059, which states that members “have a continued need for customer usage tracking and reporting services to reduce customers’ energy use.” A task order scope of services includes cloud services and consulting and professional services.⁴²

EFI

(“EFI”) states on its website that it helps organizations purchase conservation products and provides incentive fulfillment services to utility clients throughout the U.S.⁴³ The expenses were incurred under the authority provided by Resolution No. 2011-009, which states that members “have a need for compact fluorescent light bulbs and solid state lighting, including multiple delivery channels such as bulk purchase, direct mail services, on-line catalog services, combined packaging of water, electric and other efficiency related incentive kits, and related customer support and delivery services.”

Salesforce

Salesforce states on its website that it provides a customer relations management platform and serves a wide range of industries.⁴⁴ The expenses were incurred under the authority provided by Resolution No. 2012-080, which states that certain members “have a need for energy usage assessment, direct energy efficiency implementation, and web-based energy efficiency program management services such as customer relationship management software.”

Other

We group additional expenses under an Other category. The following are the 10 largest entities providing services as measured by associated expenses during the review period:

- AM Conservation Group: $70K
- E Source Companies: $50K
- California Municipal Utilities Association (“CMUA”): $43K
- Government Affairs: $42K
- Renewable Energy Study Project: $38K
- OpSolve: $34K
- Holland & Hart: $31K
- Smart Electric Power Alliance: $28K
- Nexant: $25K
- Black and Veatch: $21K

Professional Services Expenses

Riverside incurred expenses for advisory, consulting, and other professional services, as presented in Figure 7.

(dollars in thousands, rounded)

We discuss in more detail those categories of expenses totaling more than $25,000 – which constitute 95% of expenses – during the review period.

RHA

As discussed earlier, RHA provided energy efficiency services to Riverside. RHA also provided professional services through Resolution No. 2017-113. This resolution states members “have a need for professional and technical services...related to resource planning, project management, energy efficiency, engineering analyses and assessment, of various energy systems to continue to provide cost-effective, reliable and environmentally beneficial electric utility service in their respective communities.” A task order scope states RHA will “deliver Business Outdoor Lighting Direct Installation Program (direct installations), Comprehensive Energy Audits, Energy Efficiency Consulting Services, and other services.”⁴⁵

Public Financial Management

Public Financial Management (“PFM”) states on its website that it helps power providers in developing financial strategies to leverage access to low-cost, tax-exempt financing.⁴⁶ Expenses incurred for PFM services were through Resolution 2011-105. This resolution states that members “have requirements for skilled analysis of certain financial matters by financial specialists and require financial advisor related services.”

Energy Controls and Concepts⁴⁷

Expenses for Energy Controls and Concepts (“ECC”) were incurred under the authority provided by Resolution No. 2003-013, which states certain members “have a need to retain consultants to develop and support various business activities.”⁴⁸

⁴⁷ According to Resolution No. 2011-064, Lime Energy does business as Energy Controls and Concepts.

⁴⁸ The resolution states D-Base Communications is dba Energy Controls & Concepts

Power Market Consulting

Power Market Consulting states on its website that it provides regulatory and business consulting services and solutions to California energy market participants.⁴⁹ Expenses for Power Market Consulting services were incurred under the authority provided by Resolution No. 2013-057, which states certain members “have a need for Congestion Revenue Rights (‘CRR’) analytical support service and modeling software to providing consulting, insight and analysis into the CAISO market.”

Automated Energy, Inc.

Automated Energy, Inc. (“AEI”) states on its website that its tools assist organizations with making energy consumption decisions.⁵⁰ The majority of expenses were incurred under the authority provided by three resolutions. Resolution No. 2010-002 and Resolution No. 2011-095 both state that members “have a need for metering and data services, including program support and independent review and reporting.” Resolution No. 2017-067 states members “have a need for certain specific consulting services for an experienced energy information services to provide expertise and services to build satisfaction and loyalty among their electric customers and to enhance their customer service programs.” A task order’s scope refers to a load profiler service that will allow RPU and its customers to view and examine the profile, overlay weather data on the profile to identify usage anomalies, conduct “what-if” analysis to determine savings, compare historical to current usage, create reports, and perform other functions.⁵¹

zGlobal

zGlobal states on its website that it consults on emerging technologies and provides clients with studies and analysis related to trends in the energy sector.⁵² Expenses were incurred primarily under the authority provided by Resolution No. 2008-096, which states that members “have a need for consulting services with regard to the California Independent System Operator Market Redesign and Technology Upgrade (MRTU), including training services and Impact analysis.”

Moody’s

Moody’s states on its website that it provides quantitative credit analysis tools and credit risk management product offerings.⁵³ Expenses were incurred under the authority provided by two resolutions. Resolution No. 2009-003 states that members “have a need for in-house counterparty credit analysis software...[Moody’s] is well qualified to provide, install, and test said software.” Resolution No. 2009-131 states that members “have a need for certain computer software, licensing, and data products, including ongoing subscriptions and application access provisions, relating to financial and business analytics.”

SNL Financial

SNL Financial states on its website that it provides sector-specific business intelligence.⁵⁴ Expenses were incurred under the authority provided by two resolutions. Resolution No. 2010-014 states that members “have a need for strategic risk management and advisory services including subscription software and services, and professional consulting services and reporting.” Resolution No. 2017-007 states that members “have a need for subscription to certain technical, financial, energy and regulatory market information and data.”

Muni-Fed Partner Energy

Muni-Fed Partner Energy states on its website that it provides energy services to the industrial and municipal sectors with a focus on reducing energy consumption.⁵⁵ The majority of expenses were provided under the authority provided by two resolutions. Resolution No. 2013-084 states that members “have a need for auditing, planning and financing services related to energy efficiency improvements to reduce customers’ energy use.” Resolution No. 2017-070 states that members “have a need for energy auditing and engineering support services from an experienced provider with expertise to improve operating performance of customer facilities and build satisfaction with those customers.”

Kema Services

Kema Services (“Kema”) specializes in business and technical consultancy, operational support, measurement and inspections, and testing and certification. It advises and supports government bodies, producers, suppliers, and end users of energy and manufacturers of electricity transmission and distribution equipment.⁵⁶

Resolution No. 2009-058 states that members “have a need for professional and technical services including project management, engineering and financial analysis and various studies and reports relating to the development and selection of projects, and completion of forms, reports, and related documentation for consideration by applicable governing bodies who define, regulate, or issues funds related to Member activities.”

Altairius

Altairius provides management consulting to the electric, gas and water utility industries. Expenses were incurred under the authority provided by Resolution No. 2010-076, which states that members “have a need for professional and technical services including resource planning, project management, engineering analysis and various studies and reports relating to the assessment, development, selection, contracting, design, engineering, construction, testing, operations and maintenance of various energy systems.”

Ventyx

Ventyx states on its website that it provides software solutions in the areas of energy trading and risk management, energy operations and energy analytics, planning and forecasting electricity needs, and other areas.⁵⁷ Expenses were incurred under the authority provided by Resolution Nos. 2009-022 and 2010-054, both of which state that members “have a need for power market advisory services in formulating their respective resource plans.”

Pegasus

Pegasus Organization (“Pegasus”) states on its website that its areas of expertise include project management and electric utilities.⁵⁸ Expenses were incurred under the authority provided by Resolution No. 2011-036, which states that members “have a need for independent review, assessment, benchmarking, and training in certain project management, program management, and organizational processes; including formulating improvement plans, implementation services and support.”

MBMC

Michael Bell Management Consulting (“MBMC”) states on its website that it provides management consulting services to utilities, cities, counties, and special districts. Expenses were incurred under the authority provided by Resolution No. 2012-001, which states members “have a need for professional and technical services including resource planning, project management, engineering analysis and various studies and reports relating to the assessment, development, selection, contracting, design, engineering, construction, testing, operations and maintenance of various energy systems.”

MBMC invoices totaled $25,227 over the review period.⁵⁹ On January 31, 2022, the respondent to the call for written public input provided to Riverside the first page of an MBMC invoice for $7,268, dated July 20, 2012, which Riverside forwarded to us. Riverside provided us a copy of the entire invoice, which is provided in EB0001-0005. The invoice states that the amount due is for “work performed from May 21, 2012 through July 20, 2012 on the City of Riverside Public Utilities Program Human Resources Investigation Project.”⁶⁰ It also states “[t]his is a one-time invoice which covers all project costs from inception to conclusion.” The invoice comprised $6,195.00 of labor costs and $1,073.20 of hotel, rental car, fuel, and parking costs. Based on a review of this invoice, MBMC activities billed under this invoice included those associated with interviews, meetings, document reviews, and reports.

As discussed later, we conducted two follow-up interviews with the respondent to the call for written public input. Based on those interviews, our understanding is that activities performed under this invoice were for an investigation into events that lead to a particular situation in which Riverside was unable to procure energy capacity when it was needed.

Other

We group additional expenses under an Other category. The following are the 10 largest entities providing services, as measured by associated expenses during the review period:

- Fulbright & Jaworski: $21K
- SCCPA: $19K
- Lincus: $14K
- Navigant Consulting: $13K
- McGraw Hill Companies: $11K
- Black & Veatch: $10K

(dollars in thousands, rounded)

We discuss in more detail those categories of expenses totaling more than $20,000 – which constitute 95% of expenses – during the review period.

Legal & Regulatory Consulting

Expenses were incurred under Resolution No. 2006-051. This resolution states that SCPPA members have experienced the passage of new laws, rules, and regulations affecting members and members have been tasked with developing new methods for securing economic, long-term, reliable supplies of energy. It describes 2006 California bills that have become laws, including AB 32, SB 1368, and SB 107. This resolution provides the authority to retain legal and technical resources and consultants to address issues associated with these laws, rules, and regulations.

The majority of expenses were incurred for services provide by Hanna & Morton, which lists on its website various practice areas and services, including representing producers of electric power in transactions, regulatory proceedings, litigation, and counseling.⁶¹

American Public Power Association

The American Public Power Association (“APPA”) website states that APPA represents “public power before the federal government to protect the interests of the 49 million people that public power utilities serve and the 96,000 people they employ” and “advocate[s] and advise[s] on electricity policy, technology, trends, training, and operations.”⁶² Expenses were incurred under the authorities provided by approximately 13 resolutions. For example, Resolution No. 2013-064 states that the purpose is for “paying the annual dues to the American Public Power Association.” The other resolutions contain similar or identical language.

SCPPA Government Affairs Manager and Regulatory Affairs Manager

Expenses were incurred under the authority provided by several resolutions, all of which contain similar language. Resolution Nos. 2009-056, 2010-044, 2011-029, 2013-054, and 2014-071 authorize expenses incurred by SCPPA’s Government Affairs Manager and SCPPA’s Regulatory Affairs Manager related to “advocacy matters and joint planning matters.”

⁶¹ <http://www.hanmor.com/description.htm>

⁶² <https://www.publicpower.org/about>

Legislative Advocacy

Expenses were incurred under Resolution Nos. 2009-055, 2010-043, 2011-028, 2012-41, 2013-053, and 2014-070. These resolutions state that the authorization is for paying expenses associated with “advocacy matters.”

CMUA

CMUA states on its website that it represents 73 publicly-owned electric utilities, water agencies, and gas and oil services, and represents members interests on energy and water issues before the California legislature, the Governor’s Office, and regulatory bodies.⁶³ It lists RPU as one of its members.⁶⁴ Expenses were incurred primarily under the authority provided by several resolutions. Resolution Nos. 2010-045 and 2009-057 state that costs are related to the restructuring of the electricity utility industry. Resolution No. 2016-002 states that members “have a need for advocacy regarding the integration of PacifiCorp as a Participating Transmission Owner by the California Independent System Operator Corporation.”

Manatt Phelps & Phillips

Manatt Phelps & Phillips expenses were incurred under Resolution Nos. 2014-095 and 2017-075, which state the services are for “federal regulatory counsel services...relative to proceedings before various state regulatory agencies.” It further states SCPPA has a need for legal services in connection with regulatory proceedings before the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (“EPA”) involving the promulgation of rules under section 111 of the Clean Air Act for existing and modified power plants. On its website, the firm lists, as one of its services, California state government and regulatory policy and government contracts.⁶⁵

Utility System Efficiencies

Utility System Efficiencies states on its website that it serves power industry clients in the areas of internal transmission and system analytical capabilities.⁶⁶ Expenses were incurred under the authority provided by Resolution No. 2012-108, which states that members “have a need for professional NERC Compliance training and subject matter expert services.”

Other

We grouped additional expenses under an Other category. The following are the 10 largest entities or types of services, as measured by associated expenses during the review period:

- Alpha Inception: $15K
- Van Ness Feldman: $9K
- WG Consulting: $8K
- CalETC: $8K
- Smart Energy Option: $8K
- Fulbright/FERC-ISO: $6K
- Federal and State Funding: $6K

(dollars in thousands, rounded)

We discuss in more detail those categories of expenses totaling more than $10,000 – which constitute 84% of expenses – during the review period.

Technical, Financial, Regulatory

Expenses were incurred under the authority provided by Resolution No. 2016-012, which states that members “have a need for technical, financial, regulatory, legal, administrative and other utility related training courses to be provided to their employees from time to time at the request of the Members” and discusses a SCPA training program in Glendora, California, under which SCPA contracts with third parties to provide training services requested by members. Training was provided by various entities such as Hong Analytics, Tonex, Alpha Power, SEL, NWPPA, AEI, AEE, University of Wisconsin, and Northwest Public Power Association.

Substation Design and Construction

Expenses were incurred under the authority provided by Resolution No. 2015-067, which states that members “have a need for on-site education and training on the Principles of Substation Design and Construction.” Services were provided by the University of Wisconsin and Greenlite.

Power System Analysis

Expenses were incurred under the authority provided by Resolution No. 2010-104, which states that members “have a need for Power System Analysis skills training.” Services were provided by the University of Wisconsin.

Electric Distribution Principles

Expenses were incurred under the authority provided by two resolutions. Resolution Nos. 2009-011 and 2009-112 state that members “have a need for in-house electric distribution principles and applications training.” Services were provided by the University of Wisconsin.

Transmission and Distribution

Expenses were incurred under the authority provided by Resolution No. 2011-087, which states that members “have a need for customized engineering training in protection, monitoring, control, automation, and metering of electric power systems.” The resolution discusses the training being provided at a Transmission and Distribution Engineering and Operations Conference.

Other

We identified additional training and working group expenses. The following are the 10 largest expenses during the review period:

- Electric Power Systems: $7K
- Foreman Leadership: $5K
- Electricity Transmission: $5K
- Underground Distribution: $4K
- FERC Order 764: $3K
- FERA Market Manipulation Rules: $3K
- Electricity Distribution: $3K
- GE LM6000 Gas Turbine: $3K
- Energy Modeling and Forecasting: $2K
- Power Quality and Harmonics: $2K

Internship Programs Expenses

Riverside incurred expenses for training and working groups during the review period, as presented in Figure 10.

Internship Programs

Expenses were incurred under the authority provided by Resolution No. 2011-011, which states that members “have a need for a program that provides students with mentoring and educational work experience in employer organizations and give students orientation to a career area they may wish to pursue.”

Other Expenses

Riverside incurred other expenses, as presented in Figure 11.

	2009	2010	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	Total

(dollars in thousands, rounded)

Project Stabilization Fund

Expenses were incurred under the authority provided by Resolution No. 1996-007, which states that the SCPPA Board of Directors “wishes to assist its members...in their efforts to compete in an environment of increased competition in the electric utility industry” and “the Business Assessment and Strategy Program approved by the Board of Directors in 1995 identifies the creation of a project stabilization fund as one of the means by which the Members may better position themselves to compete in an environment of increased competition.”

Other Expenses

We identified additional expenses, followed by the associated expenses incurred during the review period:

- Electro Wire: $33K
- California EPA Toxic Substance Manifest Fees: $5K

IV. REQUIRED SCPPA CONTRACT SIGNATURE AUTHORITY AND LEVELS OF APPROVAL

We reviewed the contract signature authority required by Riverside’s policy at the time each SCPPA contract was executed to verify whether proper levels of approval were obtained. Riverside provided us copies of SCCPA contracts and task orders. Figure 12 summarizes the approvals documented for those contracts and task orders executed during the review period.

We discuss non-energy efficiency (e.g., solar and biomass) and energy efficiency contracts separately. With regard to solar and biomass contracts, each contract was approved by the City Council, City Manager or Assistant City Manager, and at times the General Manager; approved as to form by the City Attorney or Assistant City Attorney; and attested to by the City Clerk or Assistant Clerk.⁶⁷ The City Council also approved funding amounts for these contracts through its approval of Riverside's annual budget, which contains line items for these programs, among others.

With regard to energy efficiency programs, on June 1, 2007, the RPU Board approved and recommended City Council approval of RPU participation in SCPPA energy efficiency and conservation programs and authorized the "General Manager or designee to execute all necessary documents in such programs."⁶⁸ On August 14, 2007, the City Council also approved RPU participation in energy efficiency and conservation programs.⁶⁹ Later that year, on December 7, 2017, the RPU Board approved an RPU energy efficiency and demand savings ten-year goal, related to California Assembly Bill 2021 ("AB2021"). At various times, the RPU Board recommended the City Council approve the creation of a new energy efficiency program, with the City Council subsequently approving that program.⁷⁰ We first discuss Riverside's process in 2017 onwards, when it began using task orders, before discussing the process before 2017.

Starting in 2017, Riverside began to use task orders for energy efficiency programs. A task order contains information such as the energy efficiency program's name, description of work to be performed, vendor, SCPPA resolution number authorizing the vendor and work, and funding amount for the fiscal year. A task order also includes signature lines for the SCPPA executive director, vendor representative, RPU representative (e.g., City Manager), Assistant City Attorney, Finance Director, and City Clerk. We reviewed the signatures on each contract and for each task order. On February 21, 2017, the City Council required City Council approval on task orders above $50,000.⁷¹ Based on our review of minutes from RPU Board and City Council meetings in 2017 and 2018, the approval process for task orders consisted of the RPU Board recommending the City Council approve each task order, for a particular amount for the fiscal year and for a specified vendor.⁷² Within a month or two, the City Council would approve each task order, for the same amount for that fiscal year and for the same specified vendor.⁷³ In addition to receiving City Council approval, these task orders were also approved by the City Manager, approved as to form by the Assistant City Attorney, attested to by the City Clerk, and certified as to availability of funds by the Finance Director.

To understand the approval process for the period prior to the use of task orders in 2017, we requested from Riverside documentation of approvals of energy efficiency programs and also searched documentation available on Riverside's website (e.g., City Council minutes, RPU Board minutes). This documentation shows City Council approving the creation of new energy efficiency programs as well as its approval of Riverside's annual or biennial budget, which include budgets for numerous line items, including energy efficiency programs.⁷⁴ With regard to RPU's role, at times RPU sent "letters of authorization" to SCPPA requesting SCPPA retain the services of a particular energy efficiency vendor that SCPPA had already selected for authorized dollar amounts.⁷⁵ As we discuss more later, additional levels of approval from the department and CM/Finance were provided after services were provided via approvals of wire transfer requests on payments of invoices to vendors.

Next, we gained an understanding of Riverside's policies to identify the signature authorities required at the time of each contract's execution. Riverside provided us with resolutions it had identified related to the relevant approvals. We supplemented this information by conducting a search for applicable resolutions on its website.⁷⁶ Based on the information available, we identified six resolutions that were effective during the review period. We excluded resolutions that had been repealed or superseded. Based on this review, we identified three points in time when considering what resolutions were in effect – the start of the analysis period and two additional dates when resolutions were repealed and replaced – as Figure 13 presents.

These resolutions indicate that as it relates to professional services contracts, contracts greater than $50,000 needed RPU Board or City Council approval from the beginning of the review period, January 1, 2009, through September 12, 2013; City Council approval from September 12, 2013, through December 2017; and both City Council and RPU Board approval after December 20, 2017. The approval requirements for non-professional services contracts appear to be similar, with the exception that from January 1, 2009, through September 12, 2013, City Council approval was required.

As discussed earlier, each non-energy efficiency contract during the review period was approved by the City Council, City Manager or Assistant City Manager, and at times the General Manager; approved as to form by the City Attorney or Assistant City Attorney; and attested to by the City Clerk or Assistant Clerk. The City Council also approved funding amounts for these contracts through its approval of Riverside's annual budget. With regard to energy efficiency programs, the RPU Board and City Council approved RPU's participation in these programs in 2007. Riverside began to use task orders in 2017, which were approved by the City Council, RPU Board, RPU representative (e.g., City Manager); approved as to form by the Assistant City Attorney; and attested to by the City Clerk. Prior to 2017, the City Council approved budgets for energy efficiency programs via its approval of the annual and biennial Riverside budget and RPU provided approval at times through letters of authorization. Throughout the entire review period, additional levels of approval from the department and CM/Finance were provided after services were provided via approvals of wire transfer requests on payments of invoices to vendor. We note that prior to the use of task orders in 2017, for energy efficiency services we did not observe the City Council providing approvals for spending subsequent to its approving the creation of the program and its approval of the annual budget. It should be noted that SCCPA was the entity executing the contracts on behalf its members. As a result, it is unclear to us as to whether this approval process should have been followed for these contracts given SCCPA was executing the contracts.

V. SCCPA EXPENSES LEVEL OF APPROVAL

Riverside requested we review the level of approval for up to 25 SCCPA wire transfer requests per year. Riverside provided us with copies of approximately 798 wire transfer requests, with each request containing one or more expenses (Workpaper 2). Each wire transfer request is approved for various items such as certificate of delivery, payment, and receipt. We selected 25 wire transfer requests per year for analysis.⁹⁵ Figure 15 presents the results of this analysis.

Year	Wire Transfer Requests	Total Expenses	Certificate of Delivery	Approval by Department or CM/Finance
2009	25	8,869,864	25	25
2010	25	10,739,385	25	25
2011	25	9,022,846	25	25
2012	25	10,246,163	25	25
2013	25	8,867,805	25	25
2014	25	7,575,496	25	25
2015	25	8,314,199	25	25
2016	25	7,077,521	25	25
2017	25	6,266,873	25	25
2018	25	6,702,357	25	25
	250	$ 83,682,510	250	250

All 250 of the wire transfer requests had a signature for certificate of delivery and approval by either the department or CM/Finance (Workpaper 3). The wire transfer requests do not include a field or stamp showing City Council approval of the expense. As discussed earlier, based on our review of City Council minutes, staff reports, and other documentation, the City Council approves expenses – including those above $50,000 – during City Council meetings, in which it approves annual budgets, contracts, and task orders.

VI. RIVERSIDE COST SAVINGS UNDER SCPPA

SCPPA states on its website that it serves its members through “operational efficiencies and cost savings through the joint procurement and financing of projects, value-added services, and providing collaborative advocacy.”⁹⁶

We requested from SCPPA information regarding cost savings such as materials, studies, analyses, and benchmarking, to verify its assertion of cost savings to its members. SCPPA responded that it had not conducted formal studies or analyses of member savings, although stated that its position to negotiate preferred terms due in large part to joint purchasing power was expected to result in costs savings.

Due to the lack of information specific to SCPPA, we then reviewed information provided on Riverside’s wire transfer requests for purchases of power and transmission. These requests list the amount of transmission and energy purchased, along with the respective expense, by month. To estimate what costs Riverside would have incurred for purchases on the open market, we reviewed information published by the U.S. Energy Information Administration (“EIA”). The EIA publishes prices paid by utilities on the wholesale power market, however it appears those indexes do not provide information needed to conduct an appropriate comparison for Riverside, such as to what extent the indexes reflect purchases of transmission versus purchases of energy.

⁹⁵ We randomly selected the 25 wire transfer requests each year using the Microsoft Excel random number generator function.

⁹⁶ <http://scppa.org/page/About-Us>

Therefore, we have been unable to conduct an appropriate comparison of Riverside costs through SCPPA to those that would have occurred on the open market. In light of the foregoing, we recommend that the members of SCPPA request SCPPA to perform a cost savings analysis for verification and transparency purposes.

VII. ANALYSIS OF PREVIOUSLY PRESENTED AUDITS

Our objective was to perform an independent assessment of the audits in scope to verify the information relied upon and conclusions.

The scope of the assessment consisted of reviewing the following reports:

1. 2016 audit of the relationship between Riverside and SCPPA.
2. 2016 performance assessment and financial review of RPU.
3. Annual financial review of SCPPA and separate financial review of Riverside.

We used the following methodology to perform our assessment:

- Interviewed the Senior Auditor who performed the work under review;
- Obtained and reviewed the reports in scope, related documents, supporting workpapers, and email correspondence; and
- Reviewed the 2015 Peer Review report and associated recommendations.

Our assessment was performed in accordance with the International Standards for the Professional Practice of Internal Auditing. Those standards require that we plan and perform the assessment to obtain sufficient and appropriate evidence to provide a reasonable basis for our findings and conclusions based on our audit objectives. We believe that the evidence obtained provides a reasonable basis for our findings and conclusions based on our audit objectives.

Based on our assessment, we identified three findings related to the 2016 audit of the relationship between Riverside and SCPPA, 2016 performance assessment of RPU, and the annual financial review of Riverside.

Finding No. 1

Applicable audit standards were not stated in the previously mentioned three reports. Per inquiry with Riverside personnel, it was identified that the assessments were conducted in accordance with the Institute of Internal Auditors (“IIA”) International Professional Practices Framework (“IPPF”). This is commonly referred to as the “Red Book”. Through review of the 2015 Peer Review conducted by a separate independent party, it was recommended that the Generally Accepted Government Auditing Standards be used to conduct the internal audits at Riverside. This is commonly referred to as the “Yellow Book”. A statement of compliance with either Red Book or Yellow Book standards was omitted from the reports. It was determined, at the time of the creation of the three audit reports, this statement was omitted with intention as the audits along with the audit department (i.e., Office of Organizational Performance and Accountability) were not in compliance with either standard.

Finding No. 2

The Senior Internal Auditor failed to formally disclose a real or perceived conflict of interest in the previously mentioned three reports. However, during our interview with the Senior Internal Auditor who performed the work under review, it was noted that any real or perceived conflict of interest was informally disclosed internally through the proper chain of command. Per standards governing internal audit practices and related code of ethics, a disclosure of any real or perceived conflict of interest should have been formally documented.

Finding No. 3

As part of our review of the Office of Organizational Performance and Audit (OoPA) – “Financial Transactions Review for Fiscal Years 2014, 2015, and 2016” (“OoPA Report”), issued in June 2018, we performed the following procedures:

- Selected and reviewed the Small Business Direct Install Program (“Program”) account numbers 456080 and 457025, which totaled $4,210,324.41, as shown in Appendix A of the OoPA Report.⁹⁷
- Obtained and reviewed the supporting documentation provided by the OoPA Senior Internal Auditor who performed the work.
- Obtained the General Ledger (GL) for fiscal years (FY) 2014, 2015, and 2016 which totaled $3,821,536.19.

The total amount of activity we obtained from the GL did not agree with the total showing in Appendix A of the OOPA Report by ($4,210,324.41-$3,821,536.19) $388,788.22 or 10% of the GL account balance. As such, we investigated further through inquiry and sample testing of Program activity for the period under review.

Based on the audit work performed, it appears the difference between the Program’s GL balance and the amount shown in Appendix A is the result of an inaccurate audit of SCPPA activity. Per inquiry with the Senior Internal Auditor who performed the work, it was confirmed that credits applied to the Program were not included and some invoices expensed in prior year but paid in fiscal years 2014 through 2016 were included in the auditor’s calculation of the total.

VIII. COMMENTS PROVIDED IN RESPONSE TO CALL FOR PUBLIC INPUT AND DURING FOLLOW-UP INTERVIEW PROCESS

Riverside distributed a call for written public input related to this engagement through social media, to which one respondent provided comments in three main areas. Our scope for this engagement was later expanded to include two follow-up interviews with this respondent to document all respondent concerns, including those not submitted in the response to the call for written public input, and provide a summary of these concerns to the City Manager to determine if further investigation would be needed to identify facts to refute or support the concerns. In this section we address those concerns we determined to be within the scope of our analysis or for which we already had obtained information during the course of our work. At Riverside’s request, we list the remaining concerns along with an estimate of hours and fees, where possible, that would be required to conduct an investigation of those concerns, in Workpaper 4.

Respondent Comment: Riverside Public Utilities violated the scope of the SCPPA charter.

In his written comments, the respondent stated the following:

- SCPPA has been acting beyond the authority granted in its Charter, which limits SCPPA to “financing, acquiring, constructing, managing and operating...PROJECTS.” (Charter, page 6)
- “Projects shall mean facilities for the generation or transmission of electrical energy” and do not include energy conservation, efficiency, lobbying expenses, or internship programs. (Charter, page 3)
- SCPPA exists only to attain economies of scale for smaller, publicly owned utilities to participate in large transmission and power plant projects. An amendment to the Charter is required to expand the scope.

Riverside informed us it is not aware of the existence of a SCPPA “charter.” The language used by the respondent appears in the Joint Powers Agreement. Section 5 of the JPA states that SCPPA has the authority to “finance, acquire, construct, maintain and operate one or more projects.” The JPA also defines projects as “facilities for the generation or transmission of electrical energy.” The JPA language does not specifically cite the types of programs – energy conservation, energy efficiency, lobbying, and internships – that the public comments state are outside of the SCPPA scope. We reviewed Riverside resolutions, staff reports, presentations, and other information to verify the use of these programs.

Energy Efficiency Programs

On June 1, 2007, the RPU Board approved and recommended the City Council approve RPU participation in SCPPA energy efficiency and conservation programs and authorized the “General Manager or designee to execute all necessary documents in such programs.”⁹⁸ On August 14, 2007, the City Council also approved RPU participation in energy efficiency and conservation programs.⁹⁹ Later that year, on December 7, 2017, the RPU Board approved an RPU energy efficiency and demand savings ten-year goal, related to California Assembly Bill 2021 (“AB2021”), which required electric and gas utilities to meet energy efficiency and demand reduction targets. According to a December 10, 2018, staff report provided to the Utility Services, Land Use, and Energy Development Committee, the City Council requested a detailed study of the original SCPPA charter and its current programs. The staff report states the following:

“New regulations and industry practices have expanded the scope of what constitutes a generation or transmission project and in response, SCPPA now implements renewable generation and energy efficiency projects, energy project planning, legislative and regulatory support, and training and working groups. In the 1990s, SCPPA established power procurement procedures to reflect the restructuring of the electric industry, transitioning from building and owning generation and transmission infrastructure to contracting for resources delivered through the statewide grid. In this way, tools were created through SCPPA to procure energy resources—in particular renewable energy and energy efficiency resources—that have become increasingly mandated by the state.”¹⁰⁰

A presentation accompanying the staff report and a City Council Memorandum issued on February 21, 2017, provides more information:

⁹⁸ RPU Board Meeting Minutes. June 1, 2007.

⁹⁹ City Council Meeting Minutes. August 14, 2007.

¹⁰⁰ Utility Services, Land Use, Energy Development Committee Report, December 10, 2018. Pages 2-3.

- Recent legislation and mandates impact RPU and other publicly-owned entities. Senate Bill 1037, from 2005, requires utilities to look to energy efficiency and demand reduction, followed by renewable resources, prior to procuring fossil resources. Public Utilities Code section 9615 states that each “local publicly owned electric utility, in procuring energy to serve the load of its retail end-use customers, shall first acquire all available energy efficiency and demand resources that are costs effective, reliable, and feasible”¹⁰¹
- Riverside is required by California law to procure energy efficiency resources first, the SCPPA JPA must be interpreted consistent with California law, energy efficiency is a generation resource, and, therefore, energy efficiency projects are consistent with the SCPPA JPA.¹⁰²
- Since 2012, Riverside has expanded its project participation in SCPPA from the original five generation and transmission projects, to include renewable power purchase agreements approved by the RPU Board and City Council. The City Council approves new projects followed by City Manager or a designee. The ongoing costs are approved by the RPU Board and City Council in the bi-annual Electric Fund budgets.¹⁰³
- On August 14, 2007, the City Council approved the use of SCPPA for procuring energy efficiency and conservation programs and services, with a not-to-exceed amount of $100,000 per program annually from the Public Benefits Fund. On October 20, 2009, February 7, 2012, and March 4, 2014, the City Council approved additional energy efficiency programs and campaigns ranging in amounts between $100,000 and $350,000. The Public Utilities Board has entered into several energy efficiency programs, for a total of 10 energy efficiency programs through SCPPA.¹⁰⁴
- For new energy efficiency programs, the City Council provides approval, after which the General Manager or designee approves the SCPPA task order to accept these services from SCPPA. Ongoing costs in subsequent years are included in the Public Benefits Fund budget and approved by the City Council and Board of Public Utilities.¹⁰⁵

Based on staff reports provided to the City Council, Riverside’s decision to implement energy efficiency programs through SCPPA may have included a determination that these programs were included within SCPPA’s scope due to changes in California state law.

Lobbying and Internship Programs

Riverside asserts the “appropriate use” of SCPPA for additional member services, such as legislative and regulatory support, training and working groups, and planning.¹⁰⁶ It states that SCPPA provides training on relevant industry topics, hosts workshops, and hires consultants to provide market updates and represent its interests in regulatory legislative matters. These funds are included in the Electric Fund’s annual budget that is approved by the RPU Board and City Council, and a SCPPA task order is approved by the General Manager or designee. - The Riverside charter vests power in the City Council except as otherwise provided in the charter. By joining the SCPPA JPA, and approving that the General Manager is Riverside's voting representative on the SCPPA governing board, the City Council has delegated authority to the General Manager to act on behalf of SCPPA.¹⁰⁷
- The SCPPA JPA authorizes SCPPA to finance, acquire, construct, maintain, and operate projects and to perform acts necessary to exercise that power, including making and entering contracts with the SCPPA members, the U.S., any state or political subdivision thereof, and any individuals, firm, association, partnership, corporation, or other organization of any kind.^{108 109}
- Nothing in the SCPPA JPA prohibits SCPPA from obtaining services on behalf of its member agencies¹¹⁰

In summary, Riverside may have determined that additional member services are a necessary part of exercising the powers described in the SCPPA JPA.

Respondent Comment: RPU exceeded the $100,000 appropriations limits for conservation and efficiency programs set by the Council in 2007.

In his written comments, the respondent stated the following:

- On August 14, 2007, the City Council approved RPU's participation in energy efficiency and conservation programs, with each program not to exceed $100,000 annually, except for the Low-Income Refrigerator Program, which was allowed up to $160,000 (Council Memo, page 1, Agenda Item 47, 8/14/2007).
- According to the June 6, 2018, Office of Organizational Performance and Accountability ("OOPA") Report, Appendix A, RPU violated this policy 7 times in 3 fiscal years across 4 programs: Small Business Direct Install ($4.2 million spent over 3 years without Board or Council approval of contracts), Upstream HVAC, Multi-Family Direct Install Program, and LED Buy Down. Particularly concerning are the Enerpath Services/Lime Energy contracts.

As discussed in other sections of this report, the RPU Board recommended the City Council approve, and the City Council subsequently approved, the creation of various energy efficiency programs during the review period. Beginning in 2017 via the use of task orders, the RPU Board recommended the City Council approve, and the City Council subsequently approved task orders specific to each energy efficiency program. Prior to the use of task orders in 2017, the City Council approved budgets for energy efficiency programs through its annual or biennial budget approval, and at times the RPU sent letters of authorization to SCPPA. Through the creation of new programs, approval of budgets, and approval of task orders, the City Council increased the $100,000 limits for various programs.

Respondent Comment: RPU violated both the $25,000 signature authority limit for the RPU General Manager and the $50,000 signature authority limit for the City Manager when hiring consultants via task orders.

In his written comments, the respondent stated the following:

- According to the OOPA report, there were over 2 dozen violations of the General Manager signature authority limit during the review time period.
- Riverside's Administrative Manual states the signature authorities for the City Council for $50,000 or more for professional services contracts.

As discussed in other sections of this report, various City Council resolutions were effective at different times throughout the review period. Resolution No. 20943, which refers to the Administrative Manual, sets monetary limits of authority to enter into contracts of $50,000 needing City Council or RPU approval for professional services. Sec 1202.b of the Riverside Code of Ordinances states RPU has authority for contracts over $50,000. As discussed earlier, prior to the use of task orders in 2017, the City Council approved the creation of new energy efficiency programs and also approved Riverside's annual or biennial budget, which included budgets for numerous line items, including energy efficiency programs. At times, RPU also sent letters of authorization to SCCPA requesting SCCPA retain the services of a particular energy efficiency vendor that SCCPA had already selected for authorized dollar amounts. We note that prior to the use of task orders in 2017, for energy efficiency services we did not observe the City Council providing approvals for spending subsequent to approving the creation of the program and its approval of the annual budget. It should be noted that SCCPA was the entity executing the contracts on behalf its members. As a result, it is unclear to us as to whether this approval process should have been followed for these contracts given SCCPA was executing the contracts. In addition to the approvals mentioned above, beginning in 2017, Riverside began to also use task orders for energy efficiency services, which the City Council approved each year.

Respondent Comment: Does SCCPA follow competitive bidding and do the contracts have a term of one year, requiring a renewal each year, or are they multi-year contracts?

SCCPA's procurement process was outside the scope of our analysis. However, during the course of our work documentation was provided by SCCPA to us which stated that it utilizes various type of solicitations, including requests for proposal ("RFP") through a competitive procurement process, requests for qualification ("RFQ"), requests for information ("RFI"), requests for offers ("RFO"), and informal requests in lieu of formal solicitations. A review of agreements between SCCPA and vendors providing energy efficiency services indicates that these agreements can have multi-year terms. As an example, SCCPA entered into an agreement with Greenlite Lighting Corporation on April 5, 2015, which was set to expire on April 4, 2018, and for which SCCPA set to extend the term for an additional three years.¹¹¹

Respondent Comment: Did Riverside enter into contracts with SCCPA before the RPU Board or Council approved it?

We compared the dates on which the City Council approved the creation of new energy efficiency programs to the first invoice due date for expenses incurred by Riverside for the particular program. We used the invoice due date as that information was readily available from the copies of the wire transfer requests we received for this engagement. As shown in Figure 16, for six of the seven programs reviewed none of the invoice due dates occurred prior to the date the City Council approved the program. For one program, Business Outdoor Lighting Direct Install, the first invoice due date occurred prior to the date the ¹¹¹ SCCPA Board of Directors Meeting. Agenda Item Staff Report. March 15, 2018.

City Council approved creation of the program. We note however that it occurred after the RPU Board recommended City Council creation of the program.

Respondent Comment: In its initial draft of this report, Eide Bailly noted signatures by the mayor on contracts. Is the mayor signing these contracts without the City Council's approval?

In the initial draft of the report, the table that summarized Riverside approvals of contracts and task orders had a column indicating whether the Riverside's mayor had provided approval. We had initially included that column based on some contracts from the early 1990s having been signed by the mayor. However, that column was blank in the initial draft of this report because none of the contracts and tasks orders signed during the review period had signature lines for the mayor. We removed that column from Figure 12 in this report.

Respondent Comment: In the Conclusion section of the report, the summary of Riverside's expenses under SCPPA should be separated between power transmission expenses and all other expenses.

The Conclusion section of this report includes a summary of the expenses incurred by Riverside for each of the following categories: power generation and transmission, energy efficiency, professional services, legal and regulatory, training and working groups, internship programs, and other. This breakout is also shown in Figure 4.

Respondent Comment: Energy efficiency contracts (e.g., EnterPath, Richard Heath & Associates, RHA, Energy Solutions, Synergy, GreenLite) have exceeded Riverside's signature and appropriation limits. The City Council was not approving these contracts prior to 2017. The signatures (e.g., task orders) were actually being provided by SCPPA.

We discuss Riverside's process for approving contracts in other sections of this report. For energy efficiency contracts, starting in 2017 and the use of task orders, the RPU Board recommended the City Council approve a task order, followed within a month or two by the City Council approving the task order. Prior to the use of task orders in 2017, the City Council approved budgets via its approval of the annual or biennial budget and at times RPU provided a level of approval through letters of authorization to SCPPA.

Additional Comment by Respondent to Call for Written Public Input

Subsequent to our two interviews with the respondent to the call for written public input, the respondent made mention of a former employee at Riverside. It has been brought to our attention that the former Riverside employee is a current part-time employee of Eide Bailly. That individual's employment at Eide Bailly had been unknown to the team working on this engagement and the individual had no involvement with this engagement.

IX. CONCLUSION

This forensic accounting report, inclusive of a narrative and workpapers, reflects the procedures performed, documents examined, and related observations to date. Based on our examination, we observed the following:

- SCPPA adopted 1,179 resolutions over the review period, 20% in which Riverside participated.
- Riverside expenses under SCPPA totaled $234.7M over the review period, comprising the following: power and transmission ($208.2M); energy efficiency ($13.9M); professional services ($2.7M); legal and regulatory ($1.7M); training and working groups ($0.3M); internship programs ($0.2); and other ($7.7M).
- Each non-energy efficiency contract during the review period was approved by the City Council, City Manager or Assistant City Manager, and at times the General Manager; approved as to form by the City Attorney or Assistant City Attorney; and attested to by the City Clerk or Assistant Clerk. The City Council also approved funding amounts for these contracts through its approval of Riverside's budget.
- For energy efficiency programs, the RPU Board and City Council approved RPU's participation in these programs in 2007. Riverside began to use task orders in 2017, which were approved by the City Council, RPU Board, RPU representative (e.g., City Manager); approved as to form by the Assistant City Attorney; and attested to by the City Clerk. Prior to 2017, the City Council approved budgets for energy efficiency programs via its approval of the annual and biennial Riverside budget and RPU provided approval at times through letters of authorization. Throughout the entire review period, additional levels of approval from the department and CM/Finance were provided after services were provided via approvals of wire transfer requests on payments of invoices to vendor. We note that prior to the use of task orders in 2017, for energy efficiency services we did not observe the City Council providing approvals for spending subsequent to its approving creation of the program and its approval of the annual budget. SCCPA was the entity executing the contracts on behalf its members. As a result, it is unclear to us as to whether this approval process should have been followed for these contracts given SCCPA was executing the contracts.
- Three findings relate to previously performed audits consisting of failure to report the standards used to conduct the audits, lack of formal disclosure of a real or perceived conflict of interest, and a 10% discrepancy involving the Small Business Direct Install Program general ledger amount reflected in Appendix A of the OoPA Report.
- Based on staff reports provided to the City Council, Riverside's decision to implement energy efficiency programs through SCPPA may have included a determination that these programs were included within SCPPA's scope due to changes in California state law.
- Riverside may have determined that additional member services are a necessary part of exercising the powers described in the SCPPA JPA.
- SCPPA stated that it utilizes various type of solicitations, including RFPs through a competitive procurement process, RFQs, RFIs, RFOs, and informal requests in lieu of formal solicitations. A review of agreements between SCPPA and vendors providing energy efficiency services indicates that these agreements can have multi-year terms.
- With regard to City Council approval dates versus the incurring of expenses, for six of seven energy efficiency programs, none of the invoice due dates occurred prior to the date the City Council approved the program. For one program, Business Outdoor Lighting Direct Install, the first invoice due date occurred prior to the date the City Council approved creation of the program. However, it occurred after the RPU Board recommended City Council creation of the program.

We have not provided an opinion in this report related to any person or party violating applicable laws and regulations. The determination as to whether a person or party has violated applicable laws and regulations is not a decision for us; it is decision for a governing body, judge, or jury.

We were not engaged to perform a financial audit, which the objective would be to express an opinion on the specified elements, accounts, or items. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. Had we performed additional procedures, other matters might have come to our attention that would have been reported to you.

Our analyses and observations are based upon information provided to us as of the date of this report. We received from Riverside the information we requested to conduct a thorough analysis of Riverside's participation in SCPPA, and to our knowledge, no information was withheld by Riverside from this process. It is possible that if additional information is forthcoming, our analyses and observations could be materially different. We reserve the right to amend, modify, and or supplement this report if deemed necessary by us due to the receipt of additional relevant and reliable information.

Out-of-Scope Assertions Made by Respondent to Call for Written Public Input During Two Follow-Up Interviews

Item	Respondent's Assertions 1/	Tasks	Estimated Hours	Estimated Fees
1	The City Council was not approving energy efficiency contracts prior to 2017. The signatures were actually being provided by SCPPA.	Interview individuals signing the approvals.	40	$10,000
2	The former City Attorney was allowing fraud to occur by not speaking out against the spending limits. This process was shut down in 2016/2017, which is a de facto admittance.	Outside the scope of forensic accounting services.
3	City Finance was not doing a proper review of the payments before they were going out. This was verified by the current CFO, who also postulated that RPU Finance was rubber stamping approvals of invoices. It's not clear that RPU Finance was even reviewing the resolutions that were listed on the invoice and payment documents.	Interview current CFO and others within RPU Finance and City Finance (current and former) to understand process, internal controls, and review appropriate documentation, as necessary.	100	25,000
4	The SCPPA JPA allows for power and transmission projects only. The fact it doesn't specifically disallow other services does not mean it allows those services to be procured. A former City Attorney will confirm what I'm saying is true. The current City Manager agrees that energy efficiency, internship, and lobbying programs are not allowed.	Outside the scope of forensic accounting services.
5	Outside counsel, or legal opinions prior to 2015, when I brought up this issue, should have been obtained. After that time any staff reports and legal opinions would be worthless since it was after my accusation and these subsequent opinions would be covering up for past actions.	Outside the scope of forensic accounting services.
6	Most of these other types of services are being inappropriately billed through the Palo Verde Contract.	Request from City of Riverside detailed invoices and conduct interviews with Riverside, SCPPA, and vendors for a sample of lobbying, internship, and other services billed through the Palo Verde contract.	60	15,000
7	Just because something is in the City's budget doesn't mean it's okay if it's still not allowed under the SCPPA JPA. For instance, in that case, the former General Manager could have done anything as long as it was in the budget. Also, the budgets may have carve-outs for SCPPA-specific projects.	Outside the scope of forensic accounting services.

Out-of-Scope Assertions Made by Respondent to Call for Written Public Input During Two Follow-Up Interviews

Item	Respondent's Assertions 1/	Tasks	Estimated Hours	Estimated Fees
8	Staff reports were manipulated by the former General Manager and former City Attorney. Just because the staff reports were received and filed, does not mean that what they were doing was okay or that the City or Council agreed with what was in them. In addition, there should be a RPU Board Memo stating that it approved it before it went to City Council. There is no sign of proof from the RPU Board.	Outside the scope of forensic accounting services.
9	The notion that energy efficiency is a generation resource is "garbage." Energy efficiency is not a generation resource, it's not a power plant, it's not a transmission line.	Outside the scope of forensic accounting services.
10	The author of a 2019 report questions why human resource investigations are being run through SCPPA.	Outside the scope of forensic accounting services.
11	Internships were provided to the children of two individuals associated with Riverside and SCPPA without the internships being posted to the public and interviews conducted. These interns hardly ever showed up to work.	Conduct a review of the internship program. Interview current and former individuals at SCPPA and City of Riverside. Obtain internship program documents to identify interns, relationships to employees, process used in selection process, and work done as interns.	120	30,000
12	The prior audit was forged by a particular individual.	Outside the scope of forensic accounting services.
13	The LADWP investigation has revealed that a former General Manager was using family members' contact information as runners. Not sure if this was happening at RPU.	Outside the scope of forensic accounting services.
14	I was told MBMC was called in to write policy on procurement system related to resource adequacy, which is not true.	Interview the individuals who performed the work and review the contract information through SCPPA.	60	15,000
15	Any SCPPA rate that is more than $0.19 per kilowatt is overpriced.	Recommend asking SCPPA to conduct a rate study.
16	Lime Energy was charging $2,000 to change light bulbs at businesses.	Conduct interviews and obtain documentation on Lime Services and appropriateness of charges.	60	15,000
17	Was SCPPA performing a bidding process every year or just at the beginning of the contract or not all?	Review SCPPA Board minutes, bidding documentation and conduct interviews to verify bid process.	60	15,000

18	You may want to consider adding to the scope. It would be good for the City to see overhead at SCPPA and how it's grown since 1980. My guess is we will see rapid expansion of SCPPA overhead and billing due to increased scope since the time of the charter. It would show why SCPPA would go along with it, since it's like building kingdoms, in that the more people the CEO can say is in the organization and he is overseeing, the more compensation he gets.	Conduct analysis of SCPPA overhead expense over time.	80	20,000
