the community. Donald Gerber, 16198 Little Court, provided pictures last night to Kyle Smith. Copies of the site plan overlaid on an aerial from Google Earth were handed out to the Commission. He called attention to drive-thru lane and menu board which would be approximately 150' from his neighbor's front door. Staff is recommending 4' screening wall along the drive-thru but that doesn't seem adequate. The day care playground is proposed 100' from his neighbors front door. He noted that there were two emergency access driveways on the plan along Little Court. He asked if these were to be locked gates. At a public meeting, they spoke with Councilman Davis who offered to schedule a meeting with the applicant, unfortunately it was not possible to schedule the meeting before today's Planning Commission hearing. Robert Skofic, 18233 Van Buren Boulevard, did not agree with turning a residential area into commercial, and also discussed the heavy traffic in the area. Mary Porter spoke in opposition to the proposal indicating that a development like this was very disruptive to residents. Joyce Shipley, 16174 Little Court, stated she has spoken in the past about property values but today, she asked to Commission to consider the heavy traffic already in the area. Lisa Solorzano, 16150 Little Court, stated her home would be directly across from the day care. She asked the Commission to consider the impact the development would have on their neighborhood. Bob Shipley, 16174 Little Court, recalled this was a private street until the area was annexed in to the City. Mr. Shipley stated there were already 27 eateries in the area; a highway patrolman was killed in front of Little Court. He stated the blind corner there is very dangerous. A letter was read into the record for Tom and Tammy Burklund, 16240 Little Court, stating their objection to the proposal due to: 1 too much traffic on Little Court; 2. No left turn off of Little Court; 3. No left turn onto Little Court; 4. Dangerous corner, restricted view; 5. Decrease in property values; 6. Little Court will be unsafe for emergency vehicles; and 7. Unfinished cul-de-sac make turn-arounds dangerous. Taylor Cooper, 16126 Little Court, several concerns were promised that the area would remain residential. There have been several meetings, they have not met with Planning staff or the applicant as a group to go over their concerns. Mr. Cooper expressed his concern for their property values and the potential increase in crime. Salvador Solorzano, 16150 Little Court, stated he was in agreement with his neighbors in that the shopping mall will be very bad for their neighborhood. Brett Deloss, 161020 Little Court, spoke in opposition of the commercial development. Mr. Deloss expressed his concern due to traffic, and no right turn. The public hearing was closed. Dave Murray presented the staff report. Comments from the audience: Gurumantra Khulsa, 4108 Watkins Dr., Chair of the University Neighborhood Association, spoke in support of the amendment. Mr. Khulsa asked that the Commission consider the room size of 100' instead of 70'. Simonian Tanniel, 243 Barret Road, spoke against the proposed moratorium and expansion of moratorium because he was worried it would prevent homeowners from legally modifying their homes for an indeterminate amount of time. Mr. Tanniel was in support of the amendment that aligns with Chapter 19.219 Residential Protection Overlay Zone, which allows homeowners to make repairs to their homes. Michael Urban, Vice President Campus Internal Affairs, stated that not a lot of student participation will be heard because students are on vacation and that the amendment signals a hostility to students.
