

UC California Naturalist Program Partnership Agreement

AGREEMENT

between

The Regents of the University of California and

City of Riverside

for

The University of California Naturalist Program

August 7, 2014

This Agreement is entered into by and between the City of Riverside and The Regents of the University of California ("UC"), division of Agriculture and Natural Resources ("ANR"), Cooperative Extension ("UCCE") California Naturalist Program (collectively, "University"), a UCCE Approved Training Program.

I. PURPOSE OF AGREEMENT

The purpose of this Agreement is to clarify the roles of the University and of the City of Riverside's Riverside Metropolitan Museum Department, who have agreed to collaborate in the delivery of the UC California Naturalist Program.

II. MISSION OF THE UC CALIFORNIA NATURALIST PROGRAM

- A. The UC California Naturalist Program is a UCCE-approved educational program designed to teach and extend information on natural history, environmental science, and natural resource issues in California. The mission of the UC California Naturalist Program is to foster a diverse community of naturalists and promote stewardship of California's natural resources through education and service.
- B. The University is the entity responsible for the UC California Naturalist Program in its entirety, including the periodic review and revision of the UC California Naturalist Program curriculum.

III. STRUCTURE AND IMPLEMENTATION OF THE UC CALIFORNIA NATURALIST PROGRAM

A. The University's Role and Responsibility

1. Provision of Instructor Training

- a. In furtherance of its mission, the UC California Naturalist Program conducts Instructor Training Courses for selected members of partnering agencies wishing to join with UC in this endeavor.
 - i. Given the level of commitment associated with the UC California Naturalist Program, the University strongly prefers that Instructors be employees of partnering agencies. If a partnering organization proposes that a volunteer take the Instructor Training Course, the University will evaluate that request as part of its review of the individual's Application for Instructor Training.
- b. After successfully completing the UC California Naturalist Program Instructor Course and approval of the Instructor application, partnering organization employees become UC California Naturalist Program Instructors of Record.

2. Provision of Curricula

a. Instructor Training Curriculum

The UC California Naturalist Program has designed the Instructor Training Course for employees of partnering agencies that place a priority on science-based environmental education. Such employees will have extensive (five or more years) work experience and/or a Master's (or higher) degree in natural resources management, biology, ecology, physical or biogeography, or a related field. In addition to the scientific and programmatic content, the Instructor Course provides complete information on all aspects of administering the UC California Naturalist class.

b. UC California Naturalist Training Curriculum

The UC California Naturalist Program has designed the California Naturalist curriculum to introduce Californians to the wonders of our unique ecology and engage them in the stewardship and study of California's natural communities. It uses a science-based program of study including hands-on learning, problem-solving, and community service to instill a deep appreciation for the natural communities of the state and to inspire individuals to become stewards of their local resources. UC California Naturalist class content includes the physical sciences such as geology and water resources as well as ecology, plant and animal communities, ecosystem management, and current pressing environmental issues; and provides tools for collaborative conservation and effective communication.

- c. The University will periodically update the curricula as needed based on the results of new research and other relevant developments in the natural sciences.

3. Ongoing Program Support

Approved UC California Naturalist Program Instructors of Record representing and affiliated with partnering organizations receive ongoing programmatic support from the University. Such support includes but is not limited to: supplementary curriculum materials, an interactive website, regularly scheduled meetings with other partnering agencies, and a coordinating University staff member who is available by phone or email for guidance.

B. The Partnering Organization's Role and Responsibility

1. Provision of Training for UC California Naturalist

- a. Partnering agencies engage their employees that are Approved Instructors of Record in conducting the UC California Naturalist Program.
 - i. The curriculum for training UC California Naturalists requires completion of forty (40) hours to include the entire content covered in CA Naturalist Handbook and course components described in the Instructors Training Manual as well as local natural history information developed or adopted by the partnering organization.
 - ii. Failure to offer a class at least one (1) time every three years may result in termination of this Agreement as further described below in Item VII.C., Termination.
- b. Partnering agencies must verify that Naturalists-in-training have successfully completed the curriculum prior to submitting their information for certification by the UC California Naturalists Program.

- i. The UC California Naturalists Program strongly recommends (but does not require) that partnering agencies encourage Certified UC California Naturalists to commit to a minimum of forty (40) hours of volunteer service per year in environmental stewardship, education, citizen science, or program support.

IV. ADDITIONAL TERMS OF AGREEMENT

- A. The University, under the auspices of the UC California Naturalist Program, agrees to be responsible for the following.
 1. Oversight of the UC California Naturalist Program.

 6. Administration and oversight of a database (Volunteer Management System or "VMS") where Certified UC California Naturalists and those in training will record hours of service and advanced training.
 7. Provision and management of UC California Naturalist Program website and social media for California Naturalists. We will also maintain a password protected website specifically for Instructors of Record to communicate with one another and to access teaching materials.

 - b. Check or on-line payment to University is due no later than three (3) weeks after the start of the class and no refund requests will be accepted.
 - c. UC California Naturalist Program will consider (but does not guarantee approval of) a reduction to the current class fee rate in unique situations including but not limited to partial scholarships for qualified California Naturalist trainees based on need (typically proof of public assistance), and for full-time College students. In such situations the partnering organization should contact UC California Naturalist Program to request a reduction and to determine the particular circumstances that may apply. It is the general policy of the UC California Naturalist Program, however, that the partnering organizations charge at least a nominal class fee to ensure the trainee's personal investment and commitment to completion of the class.
5. Assist the University in the promotion of the UC California Naturalist Program by promoting the UC California Naturalist Program in Riverside Metropolitan Museum's newsletters and/or other on-line, social media, and in-print publications.  - h. Outreach to other informal science education and environmental organizations and land management and recreation agencies in City of Riverside's area to inform them of City of Riverside's offering of the UC California Naturalist class and to explore potential collaborative arrangements that will enhance City of Riverside's local program.
 - i. Attend quarterly Instructor conference calls and one (1) annual in-person Instructor "trainer" meeting.
10. Absorb all costs incurred from performance of the above responsibilities by City of Riverside. These costs, including the cost of the instructor's stipend will be covered by class fees.
