MISSION

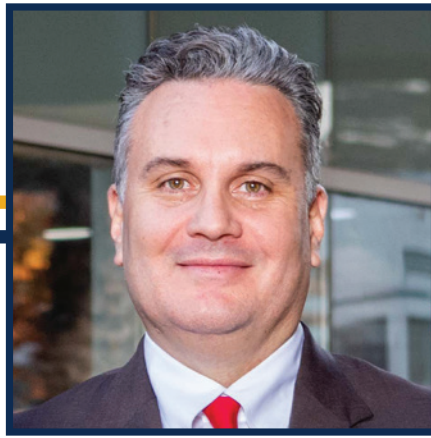

The mission of the Community Police Review Commission is to promote public confidence in the professionalism and accountability of the sworn staff of the Riverside Police Department (RPD). The CPRC accomplishes this mission by conducting an independent review of officer-involved death (OID) cases and citizen complaints. The CPRC or the CPRC Manager may request independent investigation services to obtain further information about OIDs or complaints. The CPRC may recommend changes in RPD policy and maintains community relationships through continuous public outreach efforts.

PURPOSE

The Mayor and City Council nominate and appoint all nine Commissioners of the CPRC. In order to fairly represent the City, that membership is distributed among all wards of the City. Commissioners serve four-year terms and may only serve two terms for a total of eight years. By ensuring an independent and thorough review of all OID and complaint cases brought before the Commission, the CPRC is able to advise the Mayor and City Council on all police and community relations issues. Case review findings and suggestions are also shared with the City Manager and Police Chief.

Although ensuring the Mayor and those mentioned above stay informed, the CPRC strives to make the greatest impact while serving the citizens of Riverside. The CPRC is tasked with ensuring good relations between the Riverside Police Officers and the community they serve. The Commission's efforts serve to increase public trust in the Riverside Police Department. It seeks to provide the public with the assurance that any allegations of misconduct lodged against a sworn officer will be fairly and thoroughly reviewed.

Through public outreach efforts, the CPRC provides a forum whereby community members can express their opinions and seek answers about the Police Department. Complaints, concerns or suggestions can immediately be shared with the Police Chief and appropriate staff thereby improving the quality of service provided by the Police Department. In addition, the CPRC educates the public on the purpose of the Commission.

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIR, JOSEPH ORTIZ

"EVERYBODY CAN BE GREAT, BECAUSE EVERYBODY CAN SERVE."
- REV. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.

I have been privileged to serve on the City of Riverside's Community Police Review Commission (CPRC) for the last eight years. This year will be my last year, and I am especially proud to have had the privilege to serve as Chair.

This year we had a significant changing of the guard, and the CPRC is excited to see such qualified new Commissioners fill our ranks: At the beginning of the year, the CPRC swore in Norma Berrellez (Ward 6), Phil DeBrier (Ward 4), Michael Levine (Citywide), and Eileen Teichert (Citywide). Just before the end of the year, Isaac Hiraes joined us representing Ward 1. Each brings a fresh perspective and a passion for public service. I would like to thank the City Council for their thoughtful selection of truly well-qualified individuals. These new Commissioner benefited from the Commissioner Handbook and the training that was developed by the CPRC the preceding year, and they are already providing valuable insight and analysis.

I have often told friends and community members that the City of Riverside is blessed to have civilian oversight, and we are double blessed to have such dedicated Commissioners serving our great City. The CPRC continues to excel in outreach under the leadership of Outreach Committee Chair Greg Smith. Kudos to Commissioner Smith and Commissioner Artemese Evans for their tireless work. The CPRC continues to reach our most at-risk communities to inform and educate. Brochures, in both English and Spanish, are regularly available at community centers and libraries throughout the City. Each Commissioner has committed to provide presentations and direct outreach at neighborhood and community meetings, and our social media presence continues to grow. Information on the CPRC is also regularly provided by infographic distributed by council newsletter, as well as on electric signs within the City.

Of course, the CPRC has also been hard at work providing civilian oversight. As the Council is aware, the CPRC reviews all matters that relate to an officer-involved death. We recently completed our review of the actions of the officers who handled the tragedy at Castlevue Elementary School in October of 2017, and we were pleased to report that our review concluded that the officers' actions were within policy. This year we also reviewed 49 allegations of performance deficiencies; 18 allegations of discourtesy; 14 allegations of exceeding lawful peace powers; 12 allegations of general misconduct; 8 allegations of failure to take reasonable action; and 6 allegations of discrimination. As you can see, the CPRC puts in work.

I am a proud member of the CPRC, and I am very thankful to my dedicated and thoughtful colleagues and support staff. The CPRC may have been born out of controversy, but I truly believe we continue to meet our mission: "To promote public confidence in the professionalism and accountability of the sworn staff of the Riverside Police Department."

COMPLAINT CASE REVIEW

In 2019, the Commission reviewed and closed a total of 29 complaint cases containing 107 allegations. At years end, there were a total of 8 cases remaining for the Commission's review.

"Reviewed" refers to the cases for which the Commission received the investigation case files and made findings in Closed Session review.

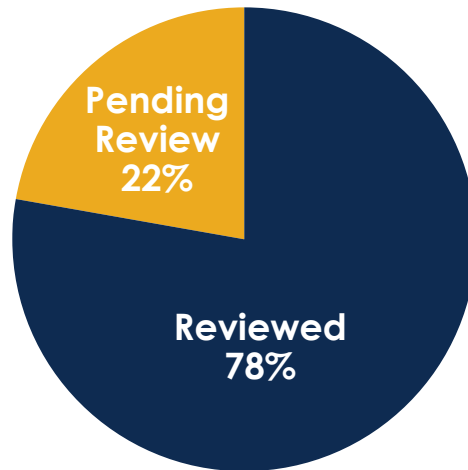

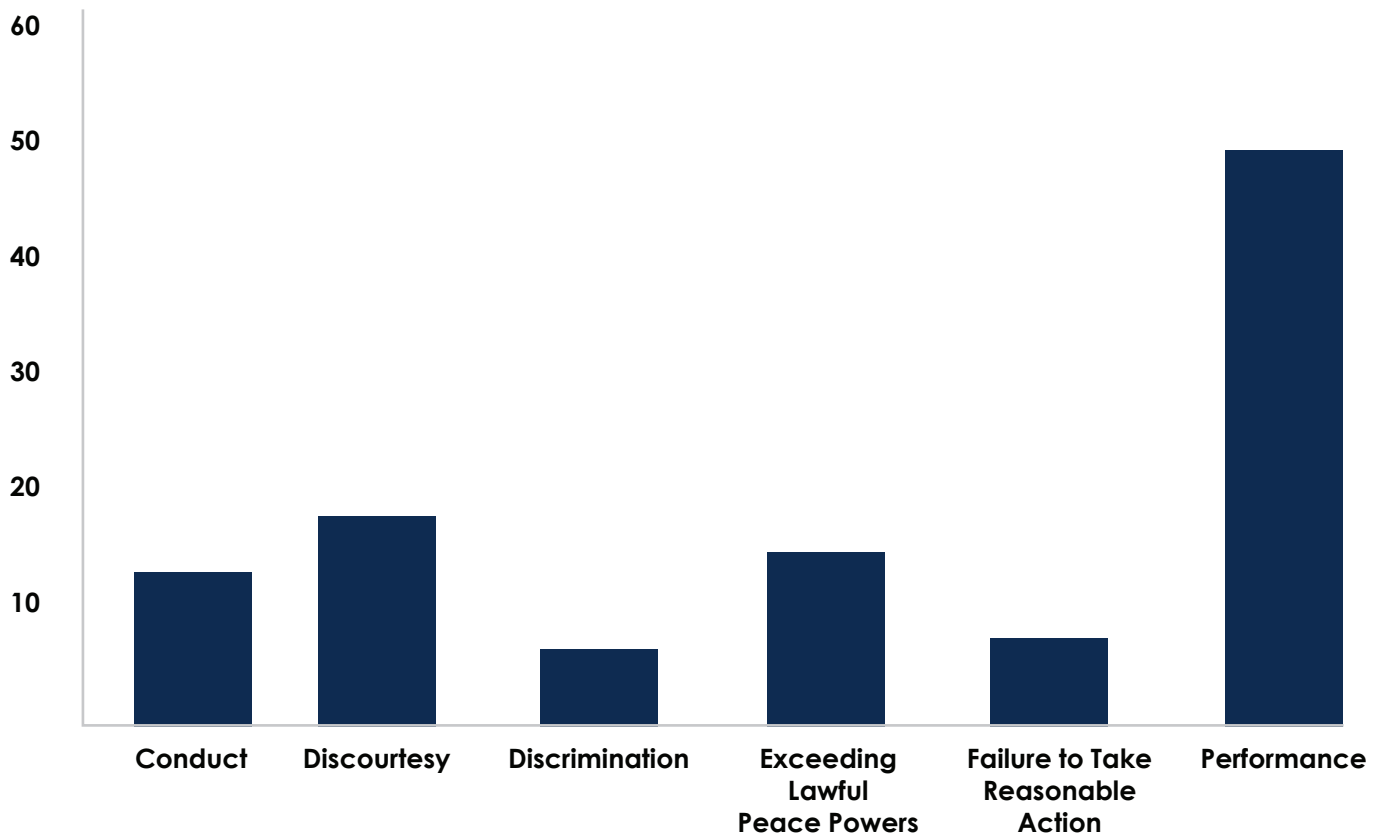

Figure 2 illustrates the 107 allegations logged from the 29 cases reviewed by the Commission.

2019 COMPLAINT COMPARISON FINDINGS RPD VS. CPRC VS. CMO

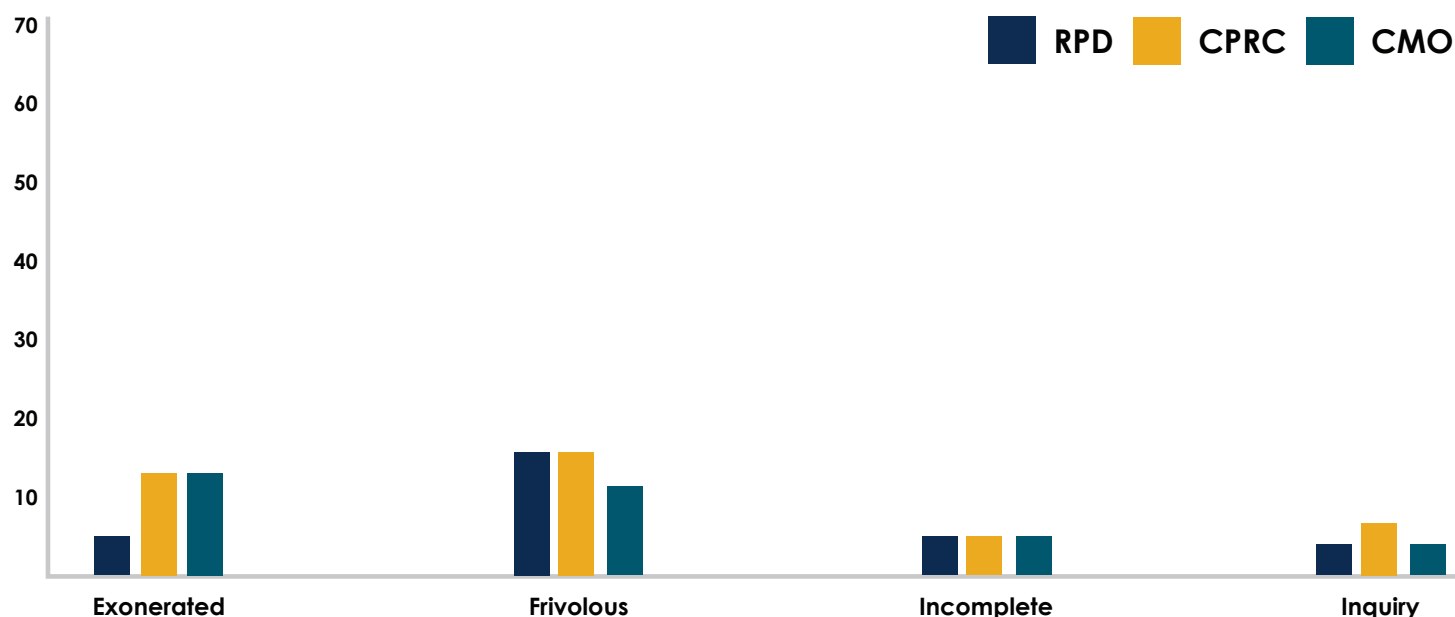

Figure 3 provides data comparing the complaint case findings of the 107 allegations reviewed by the Riverside Police Department (RPD), Community Police Review Commission (CPRC) and the City Manager's Office (CMO). Each of the three entities independently reach findings on allegations.

FINDINGS AND DISPOSITIONS OF PERSONNEL COMPLAINTS:

Sustained: When the investigation discloses sufficient evidence to establish that the act occurred and that it constituted misconduct.

Not Sustained: When the investigation discloses that there is insufficient evidence to sustain the complaint or fully exonerate the employee.

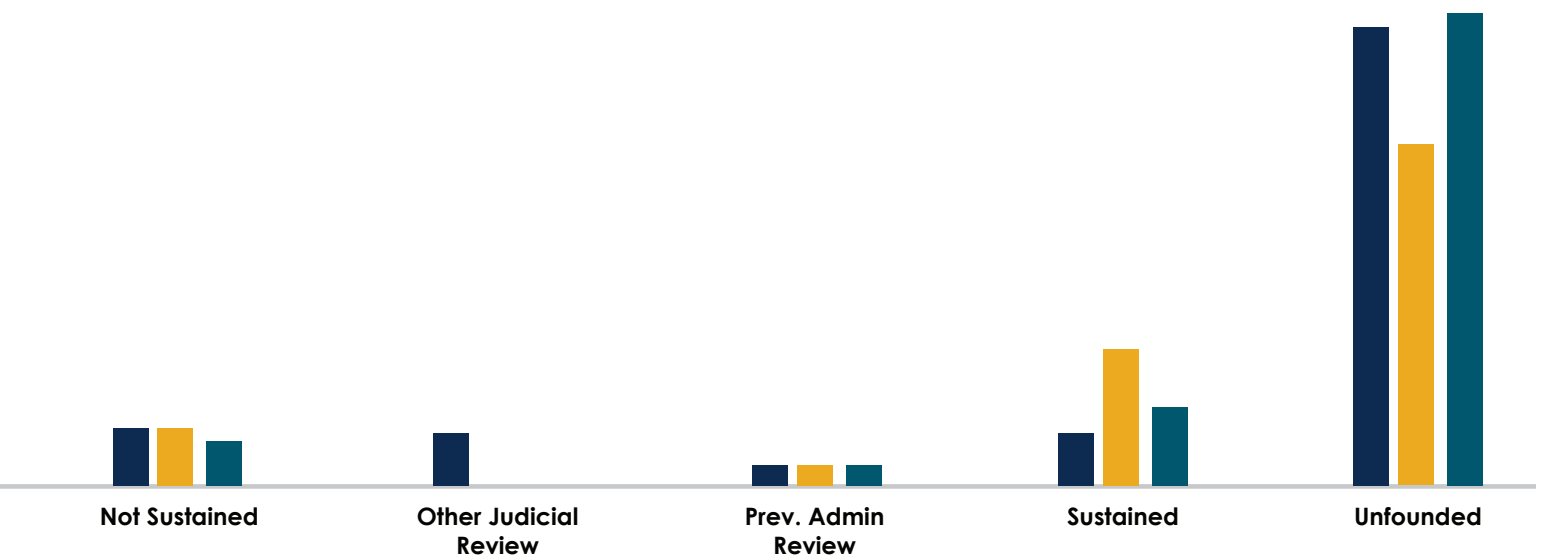

Unfounded: When the investigation discloses that the alleged act(s) did not occur or did not involve department personnel.

Exonerated: When the investigation discloses that the alleged act occurred, but that the act was justified, lawful and/or proper.

Incomplete: A matter in which the complaining party either refuses to cooperate or becomes unavailable after diligent follow-up investigation. At the discretion of the assigned supervisor and the Internal Affairs Bureau, such matters need not be documented as personnel complaints, but may be further investigated, depending on the seriousness of the complaint and the availability of sufficient information.

FINDINGS COMPARISON

Previous Administrative Review: A matter in which the actions of the employee(s) have been determined to be within policy in a previous Supervisor Administrative Review or other administrative investigation. If no further information is provided or discovered, beyond the facts already known at the time of the Previous Administrative Review, the Department supervisor, with approval of his or her commanding officer and the Internal Affairs Lieutenant, may classify the allegation with a finding of Previous Administrative Review.

Inquiry: If an uninvolved supervisor determines that a citizen is merely requesting clarification of a policy or procedure, or the alleged misconduct or improper job performance, even if true, would not constitute a violation of law or Department policy or procedure, the supervisor, with approval of his or her commanding officer and the Internal Affairs Lieutenant, may classify the matter as an inquiry and need not take a complaint.

Other Judicial Review: This classification is intended to address two types of complaints:

- Civil Matters
- Court Proceedings

Frivolous: Complaints that are totally and completely without merit, or which are made for the sole purpose of harassing a police employee may be classified with a finding of Frivolous as approved by the Internal Affairs Lieutenant or a chief officer.

OFFICER-INVOLVED DEATH(S) (OID)

The Riverside City Charter defines the ability of the Community Police Review Commission to review and investigate officer-involved deaths. Charter Section 810, empowers the Commission "to review and investigate the death of any individual arising out of or in connection with actions of a sworn police officer, regardless of whether a complaint regarding such death has been filed."

Immediately upon the death of a person arising out of or in connection with the actions of a sworn police officer, a criminal investigation commences. The Riverside Police Department (RPD) conducts the criminal investigation, which includes gathering physical evidence, obtaining statements from involved parties and witnesses, and gathering reports from all involved officers.
