We apparently have termites at the Riverside shelter and the place will need to be tented. One bid is coming in at about $5,000. Any ideas out there for good pest control that doesn't cost a fortune?

1) technology costs related to tele-care for our youth clients and 2) rental assistance for transitional-aged foster youth

We are providing childcare services to essential workers through June 30 and have had wonderful support from community partners. We are in need of additional thermal thermometers. Our senior nutrition program has been providing grab n go meals and the increase in those needing this service has increased exponentially.

We are planning to continue our Drive Thru Emergency Food Distributions at least until September. The 6 month cost is estimated at $410,000 and should provide 1.2 million meals. We need financial support for this, as well as large donations of the items mentioned in Column C.

We are also looking for support for our Homebound Delivery program, which delivers emergency food boxes to homebound seniors, persons with disabilities, and others whose health and lack of transportation are keeping them from getting food. We received over 1,700 requests for help in April alone, and want to make this a permanent program. We're estimating the annual cost would be $172,500 and could serve as many as 10,400 households per year.

We are looking for in-kind donors of nutritious foods we could include in our Homebound Delivery food boxes (see column C).

Interested in collaboration with other orgs that are offering similar senior food delivery programs to consolidate resources, and maybe designate areas of service.

Emergency relief for 1) technology costs related to tele-care for our youth clients and 2) rental assistance for transitional-aged foster youth

More foster and safe families to serve children in need. As the curtain of Covid is pulled back we believe there will be a surge of new children either entering the child welfare system, or on the edge of the child welfare system.

$250,000 to cover staff payroll over entire Path of Life program spectrum.

Funds are needed to be able to give back to families who have lost jobs - many are unable to buy needed medications, food, or pay rent. We've given out over $30,000 and we are completely out of money to do more.

1) Monthly financial support for both of our homes; 2) volunteer projects - landscaping and fencing; 3) supplies such as toilet paper, laundry detergent, hand sanitizer, hand soap and other consumables

The Salvation Army has increased distribution hours and services. 75% of clients seeking assistance are coming for the first time. We are currently giving (through delivery and drive through pantry options) 1,200 food boxes per week. Each box is between a one and two week supply of food. It will cost TSA an additional $40,000 a month to meet this increased need.

We could use $15,000 to replace our office building windows with double pane glass for energy efficiency.

We need a trustworthy Dentist and Doctor for our students who understands our medicine restrictions.
