BACKGROUND

1. Sharing Households Assist Riverside's Energy (SHARE) is a low-income assistance program offered since 1989
2. Originally funded by customer donations - today it is a combination of donations, Public Benefits funds, and water funds
3. SHARE comprises two elements:
 - a. Monthly credit on electric and water bills
 - b. Deposit/urgent notice benefit, only applied to assist qualified customers with deposit requirements or a 48-hour notice of disconnection

BACKGROUND

The two elements of SHARE were approved separately

SHARE Assistance	City Council Approval Date	Program Details
Deposit/Urgent Notice Assistance	March 23, 2021	Deposit assistance was increased from $150 to $250 as part of COVID-19 support. The action indicated it would revert to $150 when the State Emergency ended
Monthly Assistance	September 19, 2023	Monthly electric and water bill credit assistance was approved through 2024 but was intended to align with future rate increases though 2028

SHARE DEPOSIT/URGENT NOTICE ASSISTANCE

1. During the COVID-19 pandemic, City Council approved an increase in the SHARE emergency/deposit credit from $150 to $250
 - a. Many low-income customers were required to work during the shut down and did not qualify for the Emergency Recovery Assistance Program (ERAP) assistance
 - b. Increase to the SHARE deposit/urgent assistance was linked to the pandemic and it was indicated it would revert to $150 post-COVID
2. The change back to $150 was inadvertently not administered and the assistance has remained at $250 since the pandemic
3. Staff is requesting to make the $250 deposit/emergency assistance permanent retroactively from February 23, 2023, and to maintain it in future years
 - a. A total of 12,315 customers had received assistance as of the preparation of this report resulting in $1,231,500 of funds being dispersed
 - b. RPU's budget included the $250 amount for future benefits and, to date the benefits have already been dispersed, there is no fiscal impact

2. On September 19, 2023, the City Council approved water and electric rate increases through 2028
3. Report recommendation was reworded for the City Council approval and inadvertently limited the increases to only provide for SHARE water and electric monthly assistance increases through 2024
