"The Aira app was a great tool that assisted all the officers on scene communicate with a passenger that was extremely upset when we arrived.

We received a call for service stating she was refusing to pay at a restaurant in the ticketing level. When we arrived, it appeared she was in a dispute with the manager of the restaurant. In the end, it turned out she was frustrated because the manager was unable to communicate with her effectively, thus resorting in calling LAXPD. With the assistance of the interpreter, she was able to communicate with the manager and peace was kept.

She was adamant on having someone physically there to interpret but we were unsuccessful in finding someone. I was able to build rapport with her and express we would do what we could to effectively communicate with her. The interpreter did an amazing job interpreting for her that once we located someone that knew ASL, she refused their assistance, and we continued using the Aira ASL app."
