ECONOMIC UPDATE

EMPLOYMENT

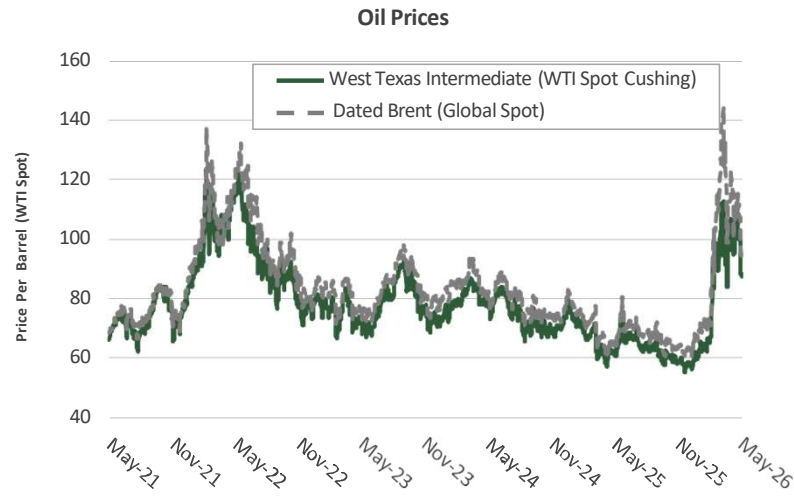

Source: US Department of Labor

Source: US Department of Labor

The May employment report depicted a labor market more resilient than recent months had suggested. Nonfarm payrolls advanced by 172,000, well above the consensus estimate for an 88,000-gain, while unemployment held at 4.3% for the fourth time in the last five months. Revisions reinforced the strength, as March moved up from 178,000 to 214,000, and April rose from 115,000 to 179,000. Leisure and hospitality led the gains, joined by local government and health care, while financial activities shed positions.

ENERGY MARKETS

Source: Bloomberg Indices

Source: Bloomberg Indices

Fuel costs eased through the period even as the Middle East war kept a risk premium embedded in crude markets. West Texas Intermediate finished at $96.02 a barrel at the June 3 settlement, then retreated into the low $90s by the as-of date as traders weighed diplomatic progress against the near closure of the Strait of Hormuz. Brent traded near the low $90s, more than 45% above a year earlier. The AAA national average for regular gasoline stood at $4.241 on June 5, down 18 cents over the week and a second consecutive weekly decline, though well above the $3.144 average a year ago. Diesel held near $5.60. Crude inventories fell 8 million barrels to 433.7 million, roughly 3% below the five-year average, a tightness that should temper any pronounced retreat in fuel costs.

INFLATION

Source: US Department of Labor

Source: US Department of Commerce

The Iran conflict continued to push energy prices higher in April. The Consumer Price Index (CPI) rose 0.6% month over month, lifting the headline year-over-year rate to 3.8%, the fastest pace since May 2023 and well above March’s 3.3% reading. Core CPI increased 0.4% on the month and 2.8% year over year. The Personal Consumption Expenditures (PCE) price index also remained firm in April, rising 0.4% month over month and 3.8% year over year, while the core measure increased 0.2% on the month and 3.3% from a year earlier. Energy remains the primary driver of inflation, with the CPI energy component up 17.9% over the past twelve months and gasoline up 28.4%. Goods inflation has reaccelerated amid tariff pressures and higher oil prices, while services inflation has moderated. Overall, the breadth of price increases makes the policy outlook more complicated.

IMPORTANT DISCLOSURES

2026 Chandler Asset Management, Inc, An Independent Registered Investment Adviser.

Information contained herein is confidential. Prices are provided by ICE Data Services Inc (“IDS”), an independent pricing source. In the event IDS does not provide a price or if the price provided is not reflective of fair market value, Chandler will obtain pricing from an alternative approved third party pricing source in accordance with our written valuation policy and procedures. Our valuation procedures are also disclosed in Item 5 of our Form ADV Part 2A.

Performance results are presented gross-of-advisory fees and represent the client’s Total Return. The deduction of advisory fees lowers performance results. These results include the reinvestment of dividends and other earnings. Past performance may not be indicative of future results. Therefore, clients should not assume that future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy will be profitable or equal to past performance levels. All investment strategies have the potential for profit or loss. Economic factors, market conditions or changes in investment strategies, contributions or withdrawals may materially alter the performance and results of your portfolio.

Index returns assume reinvestment of all distributions. Historical performance results for investment indexes generally do not reflect the deduction of transaction and/or custodial charges or the deduction of an investment management fee, the incurrence of which would have the effect of decreasing historical performance results. It is not possible to invest directly in an index.

Fixed income investments are subject to interest, credit and market risk. Interest rate risk: the value of fixed income investments will decline as interest rates rise. Credit risk: the possibility that the borrower may not be able to repay interest and principal. Low rated bonds generally have to pay higher interest rates to attract investors willing to take on greater risk. Market risk: the bond market in general could decline due to economic conditions, especially during periods of rising interest rates.

Ratings information have been provided by Moody’s, S&P and Fitch through data feeds we believe to be reliable as of the date of this statement, however we cannot guarantee its accuracy.

Security level ratings for U.S. Agency issued mortgage-backed securities (“MBS”) reflect the issuer rating because the securities themselves are not rated. The issuing U.S. Agency guarantees the full and timely payment of both principal and interest.

LGIP Yields: Reported yields for local government investment pools may be presented as either the 30-day yield or the monthly distribution yield, as applicable. For certain funds, the 30-day yield is calculated using reported daily yield data. Yield calculations are subject to change and may not be directly comparable across funds.

LAIF Yields: Additional Disclosure for CA Clients - As a result of a reporting lag from the Local Agency Investment Fund (LAIF), reported LAIF yields represent the most recently available Daily Effective Yield and may reflect data from approximately 7–10 days prior to month-end.
